Board Will Place Teachers' Levy On Ballot Again

The Board of Education voted unanimously Monday night to place a 3.5-mill tax levy on the ballot at the May 3 primary election to provide funds to increase teachers' salaries.

The action was taken after the Citizens Committee for Better Schools urged submission and a city resident spoke in opposition.

In asking resubmission of the levy, which was overwhelmingly defeated last fall, Sidney C. Porter Jr., spokesman for the Citizens Committee, questioned whether residents were fully aware of the implications in the levy's rejection and asked the board to stage a campaign to make school district residents conscious of the need to make the salaries more competitive, obtain quality teachers and reduce the turnover.

BEFORE the discussion opened, Lawrence A. Finlay of 709 Sophia St. asked several questions on federal aid, and then commented:

"I think the smashing defeat shows the community can't afford a 3.5-mill levy. This is an industry - poor area. If it wasn't for the adjacent states, I don't know what our residents would do."

Finlay left the meeting before Porter questioned Supt. Paul H. Blair on the need for the levy and then recommended on behalf of the Citizens Committee that the levy be placed on the ballot.

Following the transaction of its other business, the board returned to the levy discussion and Richard Smith made the motion for adoption of the resolution, with Harry D. McConville offering the second.

In offering the motion, Smith said he wanted to take cognizance of what Mr. Finlay had said, adding, "I don't believe we should quit. I believe it is the people's prerogative to vote one way or the other."

McConville commented, "We owe it to our students and our teachers. We just can't compete."

SAMUEL M. BROWN, chairman of the finance committee, declared, "Like it or not, it's the only course left to us. In deference to Mr. Finlay, federal aid will not help the average teacher get more money. But I assure him we will examine the material he has left and seek whatever aid we can get."

John R. Woomer, who had opposed submission of the levy at the last general election in November, said he now favored placing the levy on the ballot. "It's our only alternative," he said.

Recalling that he wasn't "too much in favor" of the last levy, primarily because no progress had been made in the building program, Woomer said the board "ran into several problems with the state that we hadn't anticipated."

"The community is progressing at this time and this is one way to help."

"Although no physical progress has been made in the building program, quite a bit of progress has been made. In the near

Compromise Measure

Scranton Signs Reapportionment Bill

BULLETIN
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton signed the Congressional reapportionment bill today, capping the bipartisan measure's whirlwind journey through a special session of the legislature.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton planned to sign into law today the compromise Congressional Reapportionment Bill that cleared the general assembly in a minimum of five days.

No time was set for the signing, but Scranton's office said it would be early.

The legislation cleared the House Monday night on a vote of 154-47.

The bill came under heavy fire in the House, but 11 amendments and one motion to recommit it to committee were defeated.

The legislation is intended to bring the 27 congressional districts into line with the equal population requirements set down by the U. S. Supreme Court.

To do this, a select conference committee of legislative leaders and the two state political party chairmen found it necessary to violate county lines in reaching an agreement last Wednesday.

The division of counties was particularly irksome to those representatives who found their home areas split and the bulk of the amendments offered in the house were aimed at retaining county lines.

Republican Minority Leader Kenneth B. Lee found himself in the unusual position of having to defend the legislation against irritated members of his own party.

"When you come to the ultimate conclusion of a problem such as reapportionment," Lee said, "someone is going to have to suffer. It's just a matter of whose ox is going to be gored."

Rep. James F. Prendergast, D-Northampton, who steered the measure through the final vote without an amendment, also lamented.

"I, too, do not like to see counties fragmented, but this represents the best reapportionment that could be achieved at this time. It's unfortunate, but it's necessary to meet the 15 percent deviation."

In Retail Businesses

Ohio Women And Minors Due $1.25 Minimum Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Women and minors employed by Ohio's retail businesses have become equal to their adult male counterparts — in a minimum wage.

State Industrial Relations Director William O. Walker accepted Monday a recommendation of a $1.25 an hour minimum wage by the State Retail Wage Board.

Certain types of employees would be excluded, among them part-time workers, "learners," and students.

It was estimated that 60,000 women and minors could receive salary increases under the new minimum wage. Department officials said, however, that these figures were based on employer surveys and there is no way of knowing how many of these already may be earning $1.25 or more.

Male adults already are covered under the federal minimum of $1.25 an hour.

The leadership and the conferees, in drawing up the plan, worked on the assumption that a maximum 15 per cent variance above and below the population average would stand up to a court test.

The legislation was rushed through in an attempt to prevent a court challenge of the present congressional districting and still permit the May 17 primary to be held on schedule.

The bill contains a week's extension—from 5 p. m. today to 5 p. m. March 15—for candidates seeking either party's nomination to Congress in the primary. For unaffiliated candidates, the deadline for filing nominating petitions was pushed back to March 30.

Fulbright Not Swayed Off Course

Opens Hearings On Red China Issue; Educator Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's critics are doing the most talking but his supporters are rolling up the most votes against challenges to his conduct of the Viet Nam war.

However, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., indicated he is not going to be swayed from the critical course he has been pursuing by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's 13-6 rejection Monday of a restrictive amendment he proposed to a $415-million Asia aid bill.

Fulbright, who heads the committee, opens hearings today in what he calls a searching effort "to increase our understanding" of Red China. The committee was to hear Prof. A. Doak Barnett of Columbia University on his views regarding the possibilities of Chinese intervention in the Viet Nam war.

Barnett told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee Jan. 26 that while the Chinese leaders have shown "a fairly high degree of realism" thus far about the Viet Nam war they cannot be expected to avoid conflict at all costs.

He said he doesn't believe the Chinese want to provoke a major conflict but their preparations for war are "ominous and disturbing."

Fulbright absorbed a significant defeat in the Foreign Relations Committee when he was able to rally the support of only five colleagues for an aid bill amendment which would have provided that military and economic assistance to any nation was not to be construed as a commitment to fight for it.

He said the Viet Nam conflict began by furnishing aid.

Car-Rig Crash Hurts Cumberland Woman

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. Elizabeth J. Shriver, 26, of New Cumberland was injured when the car she was driving was involved in a collision with a tractor-trailer about 6:30 this morning at the intersection of Pearl and N. Chester Sts. here.

Mrs. Shriver was taken to Weirton General Hospital where she was treated for knee bruises and then released.

The rig driven by George E. Andrews, 32, of Rayland, Ohio, is owned by the Weir - Cove Moving and Storage Co. of Weirton.

According to Hancock County sheriff's deputies, damage to the rig was slight, but the Shriver vehicle was demolished. No charges were issued, with the investigation continuing.

50 Leaders Of Party Due At Reams' Dinner

About 50 Democratic party leaders, along with newspapermen from throughout Columbiana County, will attend a dinner tonight at 6:30 at Columbiana to meet Frazier Reams Jr., Democratic candidate for governor.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, said a press conference is scheduled at 7:30, following the dinner at Heck's Restaurant. Reams is scheduled to arrive at Columbiana after an appearance in Steubenville.

Any interested person may sit in on the 7:30 conference, Gosney said. Reams is slated to remain in Columbiana County Wednesday for visits in several communities, but his itinerary has not yet been worked out.

North Viet Fuel Dump, Missile Site Bombed Out

U.S. Air War Climbs To Record Intensity; 4 Jets, 3 Crews Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The American air war against North Viet Nam climbed to record intensity in the past 24 hours but also cost four U. S. jets and the crews of three of them. Pilots reported they knocked out a fuel dump and a missile site.

Air Force and Navy pilots flew several hundred sorties against targets in the Communist North, a pace-setting performance since the raids began 13 months ago, an American spokesman said. The total number of planes was not disclosed, but there were 53 missions, the spokesman said.

Direct hits on the Son La oil storage center 130 miles east of Hanoi rocked the area with explosions and sent up black clouds 4,000 feet, the spokesman said.

The U. S. pilots blasted their second missile site in four days, hitting one 22 miles west of Thanh Hoa and 80 miles south of Hanoi, he said.

With the skies clear, the Americans also attacked roads, railroad tracks, ferries and bridges on a wide front ranging from the 17th Parallel frontier to the coastal city of Vinh.

A highway bridge was claimed destroyed 20 miles north of the border.

One F105 Thunderchief jet was hit by ground fire 52 miles southeast of Vinh. The pilot bailed out and was rescued unharmed by a helicopter crew.

Another Air Force Thunderchief was shot down while attacking a suspected missile site. The aircraft disappeared during its first pass at the target, boiling through heavy flak. A spokesman said it may have been hit by a missile. The pilot was presumed lost.

Two Air Force F101 reconnaissance planes also disappeared Monday on a mission northwest of Vinh. The fate of the planes was unknown and the pilots were listed as missing in action.

Air Force B52's struck again today in Binh Duong Province, 350 miles North of Saigon.

The target was a Viet Cong military headquarters; a spokesman said three enemy regiments had been seen operating in the sector since Jan. 1. There was no estimate of damage inflicted by the big bombers.

On the ground, most of the big American, Allied and Vietnamese government operations clanked slowly to a halt with the Viet Cong in hiding.

The U. S. Marines scoured through the sector seven miles north of Quang Ngai where they and the Vietnamese smashed the North Vietnamese 21st Regiment in Operation Utah during the past four days.

They found 48 more enemy bodies around the command post they overran and blew up, bringing the confirmed total for the Marines to 360 killed and four captured. The Vietnamese 2nd Division claimed 274 killed, 20 captured and 43 weapons seized.

The Allied forces estimated that the number of Communist troops killed in the fierce fight was double the body count of 634.

The operation now has ended. The Vietnamese navy said it had intensified patrols of the waterways, inspecting 629 junks and searching 2,533 persons in the past 24 hours. One junk was seized and 28 Viet Cong were apprehended.

Hits Heart Of Alliance, He Declares

French Chief Told Allies Willing To Discuss Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told French President de Gaulle that De Gaulle's proposal for radical reorganization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military system strikes at the heart of the alliance and can have a profound effect on French-American relations.

The U. S. response, made Monday night a few hours after a letter from De Gaulle reached the White House, implied that the United States would remove its NATO-support military installations from France rather than hand them over to French command and control as De Gaulle reportedly wishes.

De Gaulle has been informed, however, that the United States will discuss with its allies this and all other NATO problems raised by De Gaulle. Thus the door has not been slammed on negotiations, according to information available here, provided the French want to negotiate.

De Gaulle's letter, it was learned, raised primarily the question of making new arrangements concerning the status of foreign forces and installations in France. U. S. officials say there are about 30,000 American troops stationed there on about a dozen bases which mainly provide supply and backup facilities for NATO forces in West Germany.

On this point De Gaulle's essential demand was understood here to be that the French would take over control. On this point alone, if the French want a nominal command, the issue has been considered negotiable so far as the United States is concerned.

However, parallel with the letter to Johnson, Gaullist officials in Paris have been advising the U. S. and other members of the 15-nation Atlantic alliance that France intends to remove French forces from NATO command completely. That would mean a pull-out of two French divisions and a number of air squadrons in West Germany.

Salem Youth Loses Life In Viet Fighting

SALEM — The fighting in Viet Nam has claimed its first Salem serviceman.

Marine Pfc. Robert Berg Labbe, 19, son of Mrs. Helen Labbe of 775 Summit St. and Gerard Labbe of Hicksville, L. I., N. Y., was killed in action last Friday.

His death occurred at Quang Ngai, a provincial capital near the coast and 340 miles northeast of Saigon, the capital of South Viet Nam.

Pfc. Labbe was a 1964 graduate of Salem Senior High School and entered service after graduation. With him in his unit, was Cpl. Joe Haller of Salem, who enlisted at the same time.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, are his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Walter Berg of the home, and uncles Charles Berg and Raymond Filler of Salem.

The body will be brought to Salem in about two weeks for burial.

Action Slated In Senate On Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins voting today on the administration's $6-billion tax bill with supporters moderately confident they will be able to defeat a barrage of major amendments.

The bill's managers said they were hopeful that the measure, designed to help pay for the Viet Nam war, could be passed late today. Otherwise, they said, final action would come Wednesday.

Up for the first vote today after a two-hour debate limitation was to be an amendment offered by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to knock out two excise tax hikes in the bill and substitute an alternative revenue source.

Gore's substitute would be a two-year suspension of the 7 percent investment tax credit enacted in 1962 to encourage companies to modernize their plant and equipment.

Mayor Signs Application Ohio's Historical Society To Erect 2 City Markers

Mayor George E. Willshaw today accepted a proposal from the Ohio Historical Society to erect markers on two major approaches to East Liverpool to point out to travelers that James Bennett founded the Ohio pottery industry here in 1840.

The markers will be erected jointly by the Historical Society and the State Highway Department on Route 30's two major approaches to East Liverpool—the Freeway near the city limits and at the East Liverpool-Chester Bridge, the mayor said.

The East Liverpool Historical Society has agreed to buy two more identical markers for other major approaches. They will be placed on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. and on Harvey Ave. near the state line, the mayor said.

The program was explained in a letter to the mayor from Daniel R. Porter, director of the society. He said more than 125 markers with the metal signs "to identify their unique attributes."

The mayor signed an official application for the markers, which will be forwarded to the Historical Society and the Highway Department after it has been signed by H. B. Barth on behalf of the East Liverpool Historical Society.

Porter said the city's application "will be processed immediately" and added that the markers "will be erected before June 30."

The wording on the markers will say: East Liverpool, James Bennett Founded The Ohio Pottery Industry Here In 1840.

Porter's letter said the Highway Department will erect and maintain the markers at a point 100 to 1,000 feet inside the city limits.

He concluded: "We sincerely hope that East Liverpool will decide to apply for these markers, which already are used to identify unique attributes of more than 125 Ohio communities."

Voting Laws Are Outlined

Voting laws and procedures and some changes that have been made were outlined by Charles Pike and Frank R. O'Hanlon during the meeting of the East Liverpool Women's Republican Club Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Pike is a Lisbon attorney, a member of the County Election Board and county GOP chairman, while O'Hanlon is the veteran director of elections for the board.

A question-and-answer period followed their discussion. The other Republican member of the board, G. William Brokaw, was a guest. He opened the meeting with prayer.

Excerpts from a new GOP booklet by Ray Bliss, national Republican chairman, were read by Pike.

Also speaking were James Boyd, Charles Gause and Samuel B. Webber, GOP candidates for county commissioner; William Weir of Salem, candidate for 18th District congressman, and Donald Elliott of Rogers, a candidate for state senator.

Tickets were distributed for a banquet April 27 at which Thomas Ireland of Cleveland will speak.

It also was announced that Herbert Philbrick, who was an undercover agent on the communists for the FBI, will speak at a meeting Monday at 8:30 p. m. at the Stambaugh Auditorium. His subject will be "The High Stakes in Viet Nam". Fifty attended, with lunch being served.

Rogers Maps Cleanup Plan

ROGERS — Plans for a community cleanup project were outlined by Council at a meeting Monday night.

It was pointed out a number of potential property buyers are traveling through the village in connection with the Tomahawk Lake development between here and Clarkson.

Councilmen said it would be advisable to improve the appearance of the community. A discussion was held on various work needed.

The project will include clearing away of small trees, brush and leaves, repainting of crosswalks at the intersection of Route 7 and 154 and other cleanup work.

Bills totaling $409 were paid. Discussion was held on a proposed countywide toll-free telephone operation.

Glenn Baker, Council president, presided until Mayor Glenn Rhodes arrived. The next meeting will be April 4.

7 Given Jobs With Staff At County Home

LISBON — Commissioners Monday approved hiring of seven persons for jobs at the County Home.

Named at the suggestion of Supt. Robert Boyce, the new employees include three nurses' aides, two boiler firemen, a farm manager and a farm hand. Boyce said that, with one exception, the employees will replace workers who resigned.

Ovie Cole of Hanoverton, Alice McGraw of Lisbon and Grace Cooper of Winona were appointed nurses' aides. Each will receive $180 a month.

Richard Scheffler of Lisbon and Ben Woodburn of Lisbon R. D. 4 were appointed boiler firemen at salaries of $180 a month.

Pete Chestnut of Gavers was named farm manager at $260 a month, plus a $40 subsistence allowance. Joe Kamper of Rogers was named farm hand at $230 monthly, plus $40 for subsistence allowance.

In other business, the commissioners authorized a letter to the Ohio Department of Liquor Control asserting they have no objections to issuance of a new C-1 permit to Jack L. Bryan and Jack C. Huff of Richardson Ave., Negley. The action was taken under a new law in which the liquor board asks the governing bodies of local subdivisions to state any objections to issuance of a permit.

The commissioners accepted a $394.40 bid from James Cullifer of East Liverpool to furnish 1,700 case holders for Probate Court.

Slag grants of $300 each were awarded to Washington and Elk-run Townships.

Patrol Reports County Mishaps

An area woman was cited for a traffic violation following an accident Monday at 4:10 p. m. on County Rd. 430, a mile east of Route 170.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Evelyn Shaw, 35, of Annesly Rd., R. D. 1, and Basil Adkins, 40, of Westfield Rd.

Adkins was westbound when the woman made a left turn into the side of his car, the patrol reported. She was cited for making an improper turn.

Phillip Munger of Greenville escaped injury when his 1966 compact struck a fence along Route 39, three and a half miles east of Route 164, Monday at 9:35 p. m.

He was headed east when he lost control on a curve, went off the highway and hit the fence owned by Blanche Black of Wellsville R.D. 1, the patrol reported.

The 1965 pickup truck operated by Keith Perry, 25, of Jamestown struck a 1956 sedan operated by Charles Koch, 41, of N. State St., New Waterford, Monday at 5:15 p. m. on Township Rd. 1030, three miles west of Route 170.

Perry was eastbound when he went left of center on a curve and hit the oncoming Koch car, officers reported.

Sheriff Lists Month's Data For Hancock

Eleven traffic accidents involving 17 vehicles and two persons injured were investigated in Hancock County during February, it was disclosed today in the monthly report released by the sheriff's office at New Cumberland.

There were no fatalities. Damage to vehicles totaled $10,145, with other property damage amounting to $50. There were 106 papers served.

There were 17 arrested by the sheriff's department during the month, 13 of whom were confined in the Hancock County jail.

The Weirton police department confined six prisoners, New Cumberland police three, constables one and West Virginia state police two.

Eighteen prisoners were released, with 11 remaining confined at month's end. Numbered among the prisoners were three juveniles and two transients.

There were 7,682 miles logged on cruisers of the sheriff's department.

Two trips were made to West-on State Hospital.

Show Slated At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Plans for sponsoring a home talent show were outlined at a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at the school. Fifty attended.

James Raffle will be chairman of the show to be held in the spring.

Mrs. Verda Leek reported reading circle books are to be purchased for the lower grades along with dictionaries for teachers' desks.

Mrs. Alma Feth, Mrs. Doris Adams and Mrs. Dorothy Strabbe were appointed to the nominating committee.

James Salter, assistant professor of mathematics at Steubenville College, discussed "The New Math."

The attendance banner was won by the fifth grade. The homeroom mothers of Mrs. Edythe Springer's second grade served refreshments. The next meeting will be April 14.

Mrs. Florence Bentley, president, presided last night.

Another Vehicle Listed In Mishap

A fifth vehicle was damaged in a crash late Monday morning when a drifting tractor-trailer rolled down lower Broadway, sideswiping two parked autos and then caused a chain reaction collision among three other parked vehicles, police said.

The rig drifted down Broadway after the driver, Bobby G. Smith, 35, of 430 Grant St., Newell, had halted near E. 3rd St. when the drive shaft broke. Smith had gone to a nearby service station to telephone for aid and returned to find the tractor-trailer loaded with coal had drifted down the street, striking the cars.

The driverless rig sideswiped the 1965 auto of Clarence Carver of 1712 Holliday St., damaging the left front fender and door, and then damaged the entire left side of a 1954 sedan owned by Bert E. Galloway of the Thompson Hotel.

After sideswiping the Galloway auto, the rig hit the rear of a station wagon owned by the Salvation Army and shoved it into the rear of a 1958 auto owned by Riley W. Taylor of Yeager Dr., Wellsville. The Wellsville man's auto was forced into the rear of a station wagon owned by Ernest Lowe of 410 Wedgewood Ave.

Police said the rig was owned by John Radella of 13 5th St., Midland.

The mishap was witnessed by Jack Berry of 418 5th St., Chester. Harold R. McHenry of Oakland Ave., driver of the Salvation Army vehicle, was sitting in the auto when the crash occurred.

'Scholars' Aided By Newell Lions

A donation of $25 for the Dollars for Scholars project was approved during a meeting of the Newell Lions Club Monday night at the Shamrock Restaurant in Newell.

Seventeen attended. The purchase of two pairs of eyeglasses was approved by the sight committee.

William McGown introduced Walter Jordan of the Monongahela Power Co., who presented a film, "Allegheny Adventure."

Roger Cline presided. A board of directors meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the residence of Cline, president, on Jefferson St.

One Killed In Fireworks Plant Blast

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The wind direction kept flames away from the big powder warehouse or the chain reaction explosions that killed one fireworks factory worker, critically injured another and did $100,000 property damage might have been worse.

As it was, about a dozen of the United Fireworks Manufacturing Co.'s 125-150 sheds were flattened Monday.

Nevola Fugate, 48, of Franklin was working in a building handling what Sheriff's Deputy Louis Wright called "relatively safe stuff" when killed, apparently as a result of the first blast.

The initial explosions originated in a Roman candle assembly shed three buildings, or 15-20 feet, away from where Fugate was.

Mrs. Emma Goss, 41, of Dayton, who was in the building that blew up first, was burned critically over most of her body.

Treated for less serious injuries were Nora Couch of Middletown and three Daytonians—Thomas Jones, Esther Jeffries, 28, and George Hogan, 48.

What touched off the first blast was unknown.

This was the first explosion at the Dayton factory since United took it over in 1962. A similar tragedy at a fireworks plant in Loveland, Cincinnati suburb, last Dec. 4, also killed one man.

Barbershoppers Give Certificates

Membership certificates were presented Bob and Dick Kitt ridge during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

Don Schussler, president, announced the annual parade of the Toronto Chapter will be held March 19 at the high school. There will be no reserved seats, he pointed out.

Loren Flouhouse, director, reported on the chorus directors' school he attended over the weekend at Cleveland. Bob Johnson, director of music activities at the international office at Kenosha, Wis., taught the group four new songs. Flouhouse also attended the parade of the Euclid Chapter, which was headlined by The Buffalo Bills.

The next session will be Monday.

Canton Trucker Cited For Crash

A Canton trucker was cited by police after a collision between his vehicle and an auto Monday at 4:46 p. m. on W. 6th St., 40 feet east of Peach Alley.

The crash involved a 1962 model truck owned by Brewer's, Inc., of Canton and operated by Louise M. Fournier, 54, and a 1963 sedan driven by Elzie C. Harsha, 72, of Calcutta, police said. There was damage to the left front of the auto and the front bumper of the truck, officers reported.

Harsha told police he was driving east on W. 6th St. when the truck, pulling from a parking space at the curb, bumped his auto. Fournier was cited under a section of the City Code that forbids starting a halted vehicle until the movement can be made with "reasonable safety."

Fournier posted a $17.50 bond for a hearing Friday morning in Municipal Court.

Trustees Weigh Fire Officer In St. Clair District

A request for a fire prevention officer for St. Clair Township was taken under study by the township trustees at a meeting Monday.

James Roush and Carl Lee requested the appointment of such an officer to investigate fires and file reports with the state marshal's office.

The trustees authorized purchase of 200 tons of slag, along with 100 feet of 12-inch concrete pipe to be stocked for later use.

Bills totaling $472 were paid. Residents of Milton Ave., near the Casting Club Rd., requested to join the five-year road improvement program.

Lorain Foulks, vice chairman, presided. David Dray, chairman, attended a meeting of the County Health Advisory Council at Lisbon.

Mayor, Council To Air Program

Council members are scheduled to confer with Mayor George E. Willshaw tonight at 7 at City Hall on implementation of a 19-point program for the municipality which the mayor presented Jan. 3.

The Council members agreed at their meeting Monday night to meet with the mayor to discuss which aspects of the program can be put into effect this year and which can be deferred to await long-range planning.

The mayor's propositions, sent to Council at its first meeting this year, ranged the gamut from a proposal to increase recreation facilities to a plan for spending $75,000 annually for street improvements.

At the request of Merrill D. Hall, director, Council also set two tentative dates for a meeting with the new Columbiana Housing Authority to discuss a low-cost housing program for East Liverpool. Council said it will be willing to meet with the authority either Thursday, March 24, or Tuesday, March 29. The definite date will be set later.

69 Seminarians Flee Blaze In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A fire in a second-floor chapel today chased 69 bathrobe-clad seminarians from their living quarters into 15-degree weather at the Sts. Cyril and Methodius Byzantine Catholic Seminary on Pittsburgh's North Side.

Fire officials said the cause of the early-morning fire was undetermined. They set damage at $3,500.

A fire at almost the same time and in the same area caused an estimated $5,000 damage to two wooden frame houses. Nine persons fled the blaze. The cause of that fire also was unknown.

The game of polo originated in Iran.

$452 Reported In 'Dimes' Drive

A "block of dimes" conducted Saturday by city veterans' organizations yielded $452 for the March of Dimes, it was reported at the meeting of American Legion Post 4 Monday night at the Siff Building.

Seven members of Post 4 participated and the post rooms were used as headquarters.

The post endorsed its commander, Ray Cunningham, as candidate for second vice commander of County Council, and George E. Grafton for 10th District chaplain.

The County Council will meet Friday night and a banquet will be held Saturday night in North Georgetown.

Members were reminded the post birthday banquet will be held at the Travelers Hotel about May 20. Final plans have not been completed.

It was announced that Carlos Deemer is a patient at Osteopathic Hospital.

Passenger Hurt As Cars Collide

A Cheter man was taken to City Hospital with multiple facial lacerations Monday night after the car in which he was a passenger struck another on West Virginia Route 2, near the Clover Club, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

John McGaffick, 23, of Finley Rd. is listed in "satisfactory" condition today by hospital authorities.

Deputies said McGaffick was riding in a car driven by James R. Glover, 22, of Chester when it collided with the auto driven by Larry P. Forsythe, 18, also of Chester, with moderate damage resulting to both vehicles.

Forsythe was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control. Deputies timed the accident at 8:10.

If Fairness Were The Idea

A clear example of a tax reform that would be unstoppable if fairness were the idea in levying taxes is a proposal to grant tax allowances for advanced education.

The allowances could be given any income tax payer who had met the cost of sending a student to college. The idea would be to encourage more people to pay college costs. Students would have less need to seek help from outside courses.

The equity of the situation is obvious: A college student in pursuit of knowledge entails an extraordinary cost that should be considered in the same light as the cost of maintaining a dependent, except even more so.

The reform being proposed would go far beyond the allowance for an ordinary dependent. It would permit a maximum deduction from the tax otherwise payable of as much as $325 a year—not merely a deduction from taxable income but a deduction from payable taxes.

There could be no dispute about such a proposal if the idea of taxation were to be fair to taxpayers. But fairness is not the idea of taxation. The idea is to get as much revenue as possible.

If the cost of higher education were taken into account, the government might lose as much as a billion dollars a year. With that thought in mind, it is unlikely that legislators already painfully aware of an unbalanced budget will be in a mood to show mercy to people worried about the ever-rising cost of higher education.

Gossipry

Vicious gossip has stirred a bitter attack from a "teen-ager" in an unsigned note directed to the "Letters To The Editor" department.

It sharply criticizes "nosy . . . old biddies . . . who thrive on other people's business" and who, according to the note, "have helped to wreck a family, maybe unknowingly, maybe not."

The note fails to expand on the case in point, but its scathing indictment and tone of sincerity leave little doubt that a wrong has been perpetrated by wagging tongues.

Vicious gossip has taken its toll on many levels in many directions over the years.

Think twice before you become a party to it in any form. Whatever temporary satisfaction you might derive quickly can be transformed into deep-felt shame as the events unravel in their proper light.

Everything Is Scientific

We have read with interest an official explanation of the employment and unemployment estimates issued periodically by the Bureau of the Census in the U.S. Department of Commerce.

It has been our contention on several occasions in years past that these estimates, being only that, should not be taken more literally than they deserve to be. Whenever they are issued, many people jump to the conclusion that the country either is going to hell in a basket, or headed for heaven on a skate-board. The fact is the "estimates" do not justify such hard-and-fast reactions.

A President's committee to Appraise Employment and Unemployment Statistics was appointed a few years ago and found everything to be scientifically objective. But that is no comfort when it is realized the ratings that cause TV shows to be jerked off the tube are scientifically objective also.

The question is whether they reveal what the TV people should know about their business, or whether they have become a bear that these harassed entrepreneurs are holding by the tail.

Do employment and unemployment "estimates" for the working force of the United States dependably reveal what we need to know? Or should they be regarded as just another interesting projection of the 20th century art of guessing the unknowable?

The procedure is to sample 35,000 households in 357 areas, then to doctor up the samples with various data about unemployment compensation claims, estimates about how many young people are entering the labor force, old people leaving it, the season of the year and one thing and another. The final result is the "estimates" on which the economic health of the nation sometimes seems to depend. It is all very scientific, all very interesting, all very helpful.

But it is at best only an estimate. It is not a demonstrable fact, not something that can be proved, not an actual count of the employed and unemployed, contrary to the prevailing opinion that it is and should be taken literally, right down to the last decimal point.

Comes The Moment Of Truth

One of the curiosities in a New York City problem that gets "curiouser" and "curiouser" is reluctance of New York State legislators to subsidize 15-cent transportation in the city when their own constituents are paying 25 cents for bus fare. What's so special about New Yorkers?

This absurdity points up an issue developing in the nation's largest city: Can its taxpayers be depended on to underwrite the fantastic costs of cities that have grown past the point of economic feasibility?

Is there a point in a city's growth at which costs start to get out of hand? Has New York City reached that point?

If it has, what will be the outcome of its desperate demands for more tax revenue from its residents, from people who live elsewhere and work in the city, from the state and from the federal government?

Mayor John V. Lindsay has proposed substantial tax increases to balance a municipal budget that might show a deficit of as much as a billion dollars unless something drastic is done.

One of his proposals would be a 50 per cent boost in the existing tax on stock transfers, a proposal so shocking to the New York Stock Exchange it is threatening to abandon Wall Street. Is it the beginning of the end when institutions tied to the city by long tradition threaten to leave over the high cost of staying?

Are people who pay the freight for the big cities willing to pay more and more and more ad infinitum, or have our largest cities already passed the point of diminishing return?

The General's Name Was Pyrrhus

In every account of victory over the Viet Cong this enigmatic statement appears: United States losses were reported to be light.

Sometimes the statement acknowledges that even though over-all losses were light, heavy casualties were reported in some outfits.

Then in subsequent news about the battle will be listed the number of planes lost the same day, with the acknowledgment that not all the pilots were saved.

Meanwhile, the news from Washington concerning the military spending in Viet Nam continues to deal with multi-billion-dollar extra costs added to the already budgeted cost of national defense, which currently accounts for more than half of all national spending.

The historic figure who inadvertently gave his name to military successes achieved at such great cost they were not worth the price was a grandson of the fabled Achilles. His name was Pyrrhus, and he drew heavily on the resources of Epirus in ancient Greece to beat everybody in sight, at the height of his fame.

Whether he actually said it or not, it came to be said about him that he won his battles at such enormous cost that victory was an illusion—a Pyrrhic victory. The idea was a gem of its kind in the third century before Christ and still is in this 20th century of the Christian era.

Victory is relative to more than the total of enemy dead. It is relative to the cost in life and property to the winner.

Every U.S. soldier in Viet Nam is infinitely more valuable than his counterpart. Even if it could be said that casualties are running as high as 10-1 against the enemy, it still would be cause to wonder if the United States may not be winning 20th century Pyrrhic victories.

It is a revelation to look at pictures of those early vehicles, to trace the evolution of design from the era of Studebaker wagons to the early days of the motor car, when all autos still looked like buggies.

All of us whose lives have spanned the auto age can rattle off names by the hour — Dort, Star, Graham-Paige, Chandler, Flint, Moon, LaFayette, Winton, Chalmers, Wills-St. Claire Haynes, Marmon, Apperson, Scripps - Booth, Cole, Abbott, Briscoe.

We can remember the Glidden Tour, acetylene lights, troubles with anti-freeze, the beginning of the good-road movement, evolution of tires that didn't come apart, when village built bumps in their main streets to slow down the early cars, the introduction of ethyl gasoline, the first storage batteries, the first self-starters, speed traps manned by unscrupulous hick constables who really were highwaymen with badges.

We can remember the advent of automatic windshield wipers and some of the incredible problems that used to arise over heating the inside of the closed models. We can remember the one-man top and ridiculous struggles with side curtains in summer storms.

And now everybody who can remember the "Stoodies" can wipe away a reminiscent tear. They've quit making 'em.

Black's Fighting Spirit Remains

By Barry Schweid

WASHINGTON

The complexity of Hugo L. Black alongside a fiery belief that the Constitution means exactly what it says shines through the Supreme Court's affirmation of the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Black, who became 80 nine days ago and an associate justice since 1937, won't sit still for any label, be it "liberal," "conservative" or "activist." And he won't sit still when he feels his fellow judges have marched off in the wrong direction, no matter how worthy the goal.

Black demonstrated this again Monday. Chief Justice Earl Warren got the unanimity he wanted for upholding two key sections of the voting law — the suspension of literacy tests where used to keep Negroes from the polls and the dispatch of federal examiners to those areas to register qualified Negroes.

BUT BLACK wouldn't go along with his eight colleagues in upholding a third key section of the law that would require new state voting laws to pass federal muster.

From his seat to Warren's right, the position traditionally reserved for the senior justice, Black lashed this ruling because it would treat states "like separate corporate units with no power of their own."

Scanning the less than half-filled chamber, Black said, "I would have yielded a lot not to have had to file a written dissent in this case—but I felt compelled to do so."

As he has so many times in the last 28 years, often standing alone, Black made his case by looking smack at the Constitution. There he found nothing to support what Congress had done and the court approved.

"Nothing like that was ever contemplated when the Constitution or the 15th Amendment was adopted," he said.

In his written opinion, Black added: "I see no reason to read into the Constitution meanings it did not have when it was adopted and which have not been put into it since."

Two weeks ago, a bristling Black went to the Constitution and found nothing to prevent any state, including Louisiana, from making it unlawful to stage "sit-ins" in public libraries.

HE FOUND the "sacred" right to protest clearly protected by the First Amendment, but not "the right to use someone else's property even that owned by government and dedicated to other purposes, as a stage to express dissent ideas."

This reading led Black, a champion of human rights, to vote against reversal of "breach of peace" convictions of five Negro civil rights demonstrators.

Again Black was in the minority, but again he raised his voice loud and clear.

In crackling anger he said, "I shall never agree to any opinion or holding that people may go any place and insist on staying in that place to exercise their right to talk."

Dissent can be a lonely pursuit and to a casual observer, at least, it would appear to be a trying position, especially for a man of 80. But almost daily, Hugo LaFayette Black gives evidence that his fighting spirit will not be curbed.

Shy Clams

The "man-eating" giant clam of the Pacific is, in fact, a shy vegetarian.

The quarter-ton bivalve leads a quiet life among the coral reefs, eating algae all day long. It occasionally produces 14 - pound pearls.

Four-foot-long clam shells have been used as flower pots, baptismal fonts, aquariums and bathtubs. The meat from just one will provide a tasty meal for 20.

Largest shellfish in the world, the giant clam lives in shallow waters of the Southwest Pacific and off Australia and Indonesia.

Giant clams have giant appetites. Filtering food - laden ocean water, as most clams do, isn't enough for the 600 - pound monsters. They "grow" their own food, too.

The broad mantle edge of the clam maintains colonies of single - celled algae, or seaweed. The algae grow and multiply and then are eaten. Clear "sun windows" composed of transparent cells in the surface of the clam's skin let in enough light to stimulate the growth of the minute plants.

Far from being villainous, giant clams are gracious and accommodating hosts. Barnacles, sponges, oysters, and tiny snails live unmolested in the flutings of the clam's outer shell. Colonies of shrimp thrive in the sheltered darkness of the clam's roomy, water-filled body.

This 'n That

Dynamite was invented by Alfred Nobel, the famed Swedish manufacturer and philanthropist, with the hope that it would help to improve civilization. It was very much to his sorrow that dynamite became such an instrument of destruction and so, to soothe his conscience, Nobel used the fortune he had made from this invention to establish his Nobel Prizes.

The word "Mrs." according to speech authorities, cannot be written in full. Originally "Mrs." was an abbreviation of "mistress," but that word has changed its meaning. You cannot write out "missus" or "missis," since these are in the slang category. Therefore, "Mrs." stands as a word all by itself.

The largest copper mine in the world is at El Teniente, about 50 miles southeast of Santiago, Chile. It contains more than 200 miles of underground workings and produces nearly 11 million tons of ore annually.

The state of Maine leads the world in the production of the familiar flat tins of sardines, producing 200 million of them per year normally. Also, this state's lobstermen catch 90 per cent of the nation's true lobsters.

Humphrey, Kennedy Seek Exposure

It seems as if the calendar has been eliminated and an interval of six years has been brushed aside for the public is supposed to be interested in the rival ambitions of Hubert Humphrey and Robert F. Kennedy to be president of the United States.

Lots of things, however, can happen in six years. If President Johnson is re-elected in 1968, he will be ineligible under the Constitution to run in 1972 but if a Republican defeats Mr. Johnson two years hence, the race in the Democratic party for the nomination would be wide open in 1972. If by chance Mr. Humphrey has succeeded to the presidency at any time before 1972, on the other hand, he would be the natural candidate of his party for the presidency in the subsequent election and possibly for re-election four years later.

An aspiring competitor always dreams of the unexpected—that serious dissatisfaction, inside or outside the party, may create a condition receptive to his own candidacy. Political experience shows that publicity is one of the most important things that a would-be candidate must obtain. Naturally, a vice president gets plenty of it, and so does a senator from a state like New York. In Mr. Kennedy's case, to be sure, there is also the added advantage of his having been a member of the Cabinet in the administration of his brother, whose name is revered by many millions of citizens.

THE HISTORICAL RECORD shows, on the other hand, that a family relationship with a president is not a significant factor in winning that office. An individual has to be appraised on the basis of his own capacity to serve the country at the particular time he is seeking a presidential nomination.

Sen. Kennedy's position on many public questions has yet to be developed, and he'll have an opportunity in the next six years to do so. His youth might be looked upon by some voters as a handicap now, but in 1972 he would be 47. One reason, presumably, why the New York senator is traveling around and making so many speeches on international as well as domestic questions is that he is trying to overcome any impression that he is too youthful or inexperienced to become the nation's chief executive.

Mr. Humphrey lately has had worldwide publicity. He is familiar with the game of politics but he has not had the benefit of nationwide contacts with the local Democratic organizations, such as Sen. Kennedy possesses as a result of the major part he played in the management and financing of the Democratic presidential campaign of 1960.

It often has been assumed in political circles that Hubert Humphrey might not be able to get the support of conservative elements in the Democratic party and that, if nominated, he might not be able to win the votes of independent conservatives because for a long time he has been identified with the liberal wing of his party.

MR. HUMPHREY, however, is a skillful politician, having served two terms as mayor of Minneapolis and having been elected three times as United States senator from Minnesota.

Like Lyndon Johnson, he knows what attracts or drives away votes on current issues and hence favors what appears at the time to be a "consensus."

Mr. Humphrey today is becoming familiar with current problems from the inside. If he turns out to be a good vice president in the next few years, he will have preference in the Democratic party for the presidential nomination and will not be readily dislodged. President Johnson presumably would support him in 1972, but whether this would prove an asset or a liability depends on the record the administration will have made by that time.

A defeated candidate may have been much more capable and experienced than his opponent, as was the case when James M. Cox, Democrat, thrice elected governor of Ohio, lost by a landslide vote for presidency in 1920 against Sen. Warren Harding of Ohio, Republican.

IF THE TIDES are against the party in power, superior qualifications in comparison with a rival candidate can be irrelevant.

There always is a possibility, of course, that some personality not now in the headlines will champion a cause that appeals to the people and will obtain the Republican nomination for the presidency. If victorious, he might stand a good chance of winning a second term. Such a contingency, however, never discourages the aspirants in the rival party. That's why both Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Kennedy are making a lot of speeches throughout the country and are not losing any opportunity to get the exposure they feel is so necessary to becoming better and better known by the electorate during the next six years.

Man, Wife Hurt In Auto Accident

A Hammondsville couple was injured when their car struck a utility pole at the corner of 20th St. and Danbury Ave., Wellsville, Monday at 10 p. m.

Police said the car, operated by Donald Stewart, 30, was forced over by an oncoming car.

As the car struck the pole, it was hit in the rear by another car, also apparently forced over.

The oncoming car failed to halt and the driver who hit the Stewart car in the rear also left the scene without providing any identification, police reported.

Wellsville firemen were called to check a telephone wire downed by the accident.

Stewart was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the chest, while his wife, Mrs. Sally Stewart, was treated for lacerations of the scalp and a finger of the right hand and contusions of the right knee.

Yule Costs Cited By Businessmen

The cost of staging the annual community Christmas program has grown to the point that its scope may be cut in order to hold down on expenses of sponsoring businessmen, Council was told Monday night by a delegation of members of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

But Dayton Allen, chairman of the businessmen's group, said in response to a question from Council that ELMA was not seeking a "subsidy" from the city. He said it was seeking suggestions on how the expense of the program could be reduced.

COUNCIL referred the question to its planning committee for study.

"At our last meeting, we reviewed expenses, some of which are escalating beyond our ability to handle," Allen told Council. "We want to discuss with you tonight the Christmas program, which we feel is a community program and not just an event for the benefit of the businessmen."

"This program costs us thousands of dollars annually, but only about 30 stores and some banks participate in sharing the expenses," Allen said. "The cost of putting up and taking down the lights is unbelievable. We have spent $16,970 since 1962."

Allen cited these annual costs on erection and removal of holiday lights: 1962, $2,693; 1963, $3,836; 1964, $4,260, and 1965, $5,580. He said they represent an increase of $1,487 between 1962 and 1965.

"We will be faced soon with the need to buy new lights," Allen continued. "I feel we have outstanding decorations—many strangers passing through here have commented on them. But they only last so long and then they must be replaced."

ALLEN SAID ELMA feels it has three alternatives for reducing expenses: 1. Cut out the annual Santa Claus parade, which would save $1,000. 2. Eliminate the community Yule tree on the Diamond, an expensive proposition because of the electricians' wages that must be paid the men who decorate it. 3. Eliminate decorations on some of the streets where businessmen contribute little toward the cost of the program.

Concluding, he asked if Council had any suggestions.

"Do you want the city to subsidize you?" he was asked by Councilwoman Donna R. Wilson.

"No," Allen said. "We're really asking for suggestions on how we can conduct the program for less money."

President Ernest Lowe said Council would "note the request and refer it for study." However, a motion was approved to refer the question to the planning committee.

Then Councilman Floyd Murray asked if the merchants still propose to operate a token plan for their customers to aid them in paying parking fees. He pointed out that the merchants pushed strongly for adoption of the plan in 1965. Murray said he was talking recently with Ralph Finley, an ELMA representative, and was told that "they don't want it now."

Allen replied that "three of the biggest stores turned us down," and added: "I think that killed it."

UNDER THE proposal, merchants would have issued tokens to their shoppers to be inserted in parking meters. The city would have purchased the tokens and sold them to the businessmen. As the tokens turned up in meters, they would have been redeemed by ELMA.

As the meeting neared an end, the proposal for use of tokens was mentioned again. Councilman Norman Bucher asked Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey if the 500 meters on which the city will take bids March 21 will be provided with mechanisms capable of accepting tokens.

Vodrey said the use of tokens was mentioned in the specifications, but he was thinking of removing it. In response to another question from Bucher, he said there would be no increase in price either way.

Council then approved a motion by Bucher that the specifications provide that the new meters be capable of accepting tokens. Bucher said some East Liverpool stores may wish to use the token plan, even if some others do not.

Council referred to the street committee a letter from Clarence T. Osborne of 608 E. 5th St. suggesting that one-way traffic be established from north to south in Sugar St. He said the change would eliminate a traffic hazard at the junction of Sugar St. and E. 5th St.

THE CLAIMS committee was given a bill for approximately $21 from Everett L. Moore of 928 Morton St., who said a tire on his auto was cut Thursday by a piece of metal projecting from the curb as he maneuvered into a parking place at Bradshaw Ave. and Grove Alley.

James Lowe, chairman of the claims committee, reported approval of three bills against the city. They are: John Melvin of 705 Orchard Grove Ave., $117.35 for a sewage claim; Irene Gibb and Agnes McSwegin of Allison St., a 50 per cent settlement of $106 for their sewage claim, and William Lister of 826 Riverview St., a settlement of $36, representing half of his claim, also for sewage damage. The committee disallowed a claim of $8.93 from Jay Mason of W. 4th St. for alleged damage to his auto when it hit a hole in a street, Lowe said.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey reminded Council it had not enacted legislation previously agreed upon officially changing the name of a section of a Maplewood street to Garner Ave. Councilmen agreed to present the enabling legislation.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, chairman of the finance committee, said the annual appropriation ordinance will be ready for presentation at the next meeting March 21. He said more departmental budgets have been received, including the water department's request for $265,345 for use in 1966.

MURRAY reminded members of a seminar for city councilmen which the Ohio Municipal League will sponsor March 26 at Columbus. He said he and Bucher and Mayor George E. Willshaw have signed so far to attend and suggested other members might wish to make reservations. Councilman Harold Maylone said the agenda appears to be similar to a series of classes which he and Ernest Lowe attended for officials-elect last November and December at Kent State University.

Mrs. Wilson said she has received a proposal from a man to trade Riley Ave. properties with the city. Without naming the man, she said he is interested in city-owned land at the top of Riley Ave. which is "a dumping ground with an open sewer."

She said the man will fill in the land and erect a house there, trading the city a piece of property which fronts on the right-of-way. Engineer George S. Bloomgren was asked to investigate.

Joseph Burcham of W. 4th St. asked Council to investigate the legality of "bingo" promotions being staged by several food stores.

"If it's illegal, let's clean it out," he said.

Burcham also complained that Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson has admitted that some East Liverpool businessmen are delinquent in their city income tax payments, but has refused to reveal their names.

MURRAY reported that negotiations are nearing completion for closing a section of Farmers Alley south of E. 3rd St., adjoining the site of a new motel.

Councilman Frank Duffy, reporting for the franchise committee, said he received some complaints on operations of the bus runs to Pleasant Heights and North Side.

He said he discussed the complaints with the bus operators, who said they will take steps to make corrections. He did not spell out the complaints. He said the operators expect to issue a new schedule of runs in a few days.

Councilman James Lowe suggested creation of a new safety committee to help handle some of East Liverpool's traffic problems. No action was taken.

Murray reported on the first meeting of the reactivated City Traffic Commission, which was held last Friday night. Copies of the commission's recommendations for various changes were ordered prepared for each member for study.

James Lowe suggested that a Council investigate the possibility of purchasing liability insurance to cover city vehicles and drivers. The planning committee was asked to investigate.

Mr., Mrs. Glenn A. Brink To Reside On West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allan Brink, newlyweds, are residing at Glendale, Calif., following a honeymoon in northern California.

Mrs. Brink is the former Miss Susan Kay Mountford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mountford of Glendale, former residents of Newell. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brink of Los Angeles.

The wedding was performed Feb. 5 at the First Lutheran Church in Glendale by Dr. Karl E. Kniseley, pastor.

The bride wore a sheath of saki cloth in Empire style, featuring a scoop neckline and a three-tiered train. Her finger-ring French illusion veil was held in place by a matching pill box. She carried white roses and an orchid in an arm bouquet. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Wilson was maid of honor and Mrs. Frank Groseley Jr. was matron of honor. Other sisters, Mrs. Hugh MacLean and Marjorie Mountford, were bridesmaids and a cousin, Nancy Larkin, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants were gowned in green Empire sheaths with moss green velvet fitted bodices. They carried arm bouquets of yellow roses.

The flower girl was Julie Groseley and the ring-bearer was Kevin Mountford.

The best man was Richter Kinnune and ushers were Frank Groseley Jr., Howard Stempson, Terry Allen and Peter Larkin.

The bride is a graduate of Glendale High School and Glendale College and is attending California State College at Los Angeles, majoring in home economics.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Eagle Rock High School and was on active duty with the Navy for two years. He attends Glendale College.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mountford of East Liverpool and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson of Newell.

Viet Conflict Boosts Services By Red Cross

Increased aid to servicemen and families of servicemen as a result of the Viet Nam conflict was reported during a meeting of the board of directors of the Area Red Cross Monday night at the headquarters in Mary Patterson Memorial.

Grants, loans and other assistance already have surpassed the 1966 budget allowance for military servicemen's assistance, it was reported.

Mrs. J. D. Thompson, chairman of volunteer services, reported a class of 15 is now in training in social welfare work as Red Cross volunteers to assist families of military men and others.

CHRIS PALLIS, chairman of disaster services, reviewed Red Cross aid to families stricken in the recent flood.

He also reported the Red Cross has scheduled a March 15 meeting for all area government officials and agencies involved in emergency affairs to set up a coordinated disaster service program.

He announced Tom Dixon has been named the Red Cross shelter subcommittee on the disaster committee.

A new class of 29 training in volunteer hospital service was reported by Mrs. Marie Hays, who also said an instruction program has been launched to train mothers to aid in health clinics and other health services at Westgate School.

It is planned to have similar volunteer school aides at the new schools when they are constructed. The present schools do not have adequate facilities, she explained.

Mrs. Hays said 1,142 hours of service were given by Red Cross Gray Ladies in January and February.

THE BOARD agreed to place the annual water safety swimming instruction program on a volunteer basis, sending four volunteers to a special Red Cross aquatics camp at Leesville Lake to train them for instructing the classes at Thompson Park Pool.

Fr. Christopher Lynch of East Liverpool was approved as a board member, succeeding George Hargraves, who resigned due to the press of other activities.

The board authorized the purchase of a mimeograph machine for the office headed by Miss Mary Catherine Brady, executive director.

Norman Nicely, president, pointed out the need for bi-monthly meetings instead of quarterly sessions due to the amount of business to be undertaken. The board agreed to amend the bylaws to provide for such a schedule.

The thigh bone or femur is the longest of the 206 bones in the human body. It constitutes usually 27 1/2 per cent of a person's stature. It is 19 1/4 inches in a 6-foot tall man.

Board Asked For 'Boycott'

The Board of Education was asked Monday night to participate in a boycott of a Tennessee company which prints many textbooks.

A double-barreled resolution for the board's consideration was submitted by Gerald Cartwright, a representative of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, and Mrs. Ramona Treadway and Mrs. Delores Jackson, representing the East Liverpool Printing Specialties and Paper Products union.

The resolution provides that the board will not use any systems whose books are produced by Kingsport Press, Inc., where other texts are available, and would notify textbook publishers of its decision.

The board took the resolution under advisement after informing Cartwright that the decision probably will be made at the April 4 meeting.

Cartwright said four international unions and the AFL-CIO are backing the boycott of the Tennessee company where 1,200 workers have been on strike for three years.

The campaign was started about two months ago and the Cleveland Board of Education as the first in Ohio to approve the resolution, Cartwright said. He said other school boards within a 30-mile radius of East Liverpool also will be contacted to seek passage of similar resolutions.

He turned over literature, including a list of books and pamphlets published by the Kingsport company, to the board.

Cartwright pointed out the local union represents 225 employees at National Church Supply Co. in Chester and the American Paper Products Co., formerly of East Liverpool, in Boardman.

Over 150 children of the union members attend East Liverpool schools, Cartwright noted.

Following his talk, board member Richard Smith commented, "I am an officer in a trade union in Steubenville and you have my full support." However, he suggested a delay to allow other board members to acquaint themselves with the proposal.

Before the end of the meeting, Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, president, asked board members what action they desired to take. Samuel W. Brown, vice president, replied:

"I would like to know how many books we buy from these companies and what the cost would be if we switched to other firms." He recommended the study and the board then decided to place the topic on the April 4 agenda.

'Go-Ahead' Given For 100 Ballots

The County Election Board has instructed the Wellsville Publishing Co. to print 100 Republican office-type ballots listing Gov. James A. Rhodes as the lone candidate for governor.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, said the action was taken as a precautionary measure to make the absentee ballots for the May 3 primary available to servicemen and civilians residing outside the United States.

O'Hanlon said he was advised Monday by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's office that the Ohio Supreme Court is not expected to hear until March 16 a suit brought by William White of Mt. Vernon, who is seeking a ballot place as a gubernatorial candidate.

The board last week ordered the Wellsville firm to delay printing the Republican ballot to await the outcome of the Supreme Court suit.

White's petitions as a candidate were ruled as "insufficient" by Brown and the Mt. Vernon man then filed the action to overturn the secretary of state's ruling and gain a ballot place.

Mental Health Director Will Speak Wednesday

The second in a series of five church-sponsored community meetings will be held Wednesday night, with Donald G. Roberts, administrative director of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, the speaker.

The meeting will begin at 8 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Roberts, a native of Youngstown, attended Miami University of Ohio and Youngstown University and received his Master's Degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

He received training in the psychiatric field at Woodside Receiving Hospital and the Beaver County Mental Health Clinic. He formerly was associated with the Mahoning County Juvenile Court for eight years and was founder of the Mahoning County Juvenile Jury System in 1958, a system where juvenile traffic offenders are tried by their peers.

During World War II, he served two years in the Army, being stationed in the South Pacific.

He is director of the county clinic which was reopened in May 1965.

Nearly 500 attended the first meeting of the series last week in which County Prosecutor Warren Bettis was speaker.

The series is sponsored by five churches — St. Aloysius Catholic, St. Stephen's Episcopal, Trinity United Presbyterian, Beth Shalom congregation and the First Church of Christ. The project has been termed JUMP — Joining Up for Mutual Progress.

4 School Enumerators Set For Beaver Local

Appointment of four school enumerators for the Beaver Local District was approved by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

Named to make a survey of pre-school children in the four townships were Mrs. Jo Anne Fisher for St. Clair, Mrs. Virginia Snyder for Madison, Mrs. Janice Walters for Middleton and Mrs. Margaret Rudibaugh for Elkrun.

Mrs. Fisher will receive $90, because St. Clair is a heavily-populated area, while the others will receive $60. The survey is to begin immediately.

The board approved the hiring of Mrs. Margaret Shipley of Calcutta to teach second grade at Rogers. She replaces Mrs. Elsie Lewis, who resigned to return to North Carolina.

Bids will be opened March 29 for a new all-metal garage, 64 by 65 feet, to be erected for school buses south of the football field at the high school.

The board approved a recommendation from the transportation committee headed by Arthur Doak to pay bus drivers $5 for each extra trip for athletic, band or field tours apart from regular schedules. Previously, drivers were required to drive four such trips without extra pay each year.

A resolution stating the school district was unable to conduct classes Jan. 24 and Jan. 31 because of severe weather conditions was approved by the board and will be referred to state officials.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar reported $5,451 in federal funds is available for library purposes.

Motorist Blames Skid For Downtown Crash

A skid was blamed for a collision this morning at 7:18 in downtown East Liverpool that damaged two autos, police reported.

The crash involved a 1964 sedan driven by Hollie E. Dixon, 62, of 1751 Crawford Ave. and a 1965 sedan operated by William F. Long, 62, of 1819 Nevada St., Wellsville, officers said.

Dixon said he was halted on Market St. for a traffic signal at 6th St. when his car was hit from the rear. Long reported he braked his auto as he approached the intersection, but it skidded on a patch of ice and hit the Dixon car. There was damage to a fender and the rear of the trunk on Dixon's car and the grill and the hood of Long's vehicle, police said.

Bids Planned For Supplies

Council enacted legislation Monday night authorizing Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids and sign contracts for a year's supply of gasoline, oil and other materials for the fire, police, incinerator and street departments.

The bids will be sought on: 15,000 gallons of gasoline; 500 gallons of motor oil; 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel; 200 gallons of hydraulic oil; 50 tons of road salt and 2,000 feet of guard rails.

The city has made it a practice for years to let a contract each spring for its motor fuel and oil needs for the ensuing 12 months.

The ordinance contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Council also received a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking legislative authority to advertise for a year's supply of chemicals for water purification and other materials for the water department.

Signed by W. O. Schneider, chairman of the board, the letter said the group will seek bids on: 250 tons each of hydrate or pebble lime and aluminum sulphate; 50 tons of activated charcoal; 18,000 pounds of liquid chlorine; 5,000 pounds of sodium chlorite.

One thousand feet each of 4, 8, 10 and 12-inch cast iron pipe and 2,000 feet of 6-inch pipe, 200 tons of a dry sand and cement mixture for use in the annual reservoir repair program and 100 water meters.

Police Captain Tells Probers Of Mistreated Dogs At Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A police captain who says he is "used to crimes of violence" has told a House subcommittee investigating dognaping how he and his men became sickened at the sight of mistreated dogs at animal farms they raided.

Capt. Thomas S. Smith of the Maryland State Police told members of the Agriculture subcommittee Monday that ed, chained and penned dogs at the raided animal farms.

The subcommittee is considering legislation aimed at halting illegal interstate trafficking in stolen dogs and cats.

It was flooded Monday with requests to testify and was forced to limit testimony to five minutes per person. Most of the witnesses strongly endorsed the legislation, but a plea for caution came from scientists and researchers.

Dr. Bernard Zommermann of West Virginia University, testifying on behalf of the American Surgical Association, said spectacular advances in surgical treatment of abdominal cancer were made possible by experiments on animals.

Most witnesses for the scientists, however, made it clear they favored the intent of the proposed legislation but wanted to make sure it does not restrict legitimate research.

Washington and Saigon are within about 250 miles of being halfway around the world from each other, according to State Department geographers.

U.S. Pilots Permitted To Chase MIGs

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bomber pilot in South Viet Nam are permitted to chase attacking Communist MIG jet fighters into the Hanoi-Haiphong areas of North Viet Nam which still are excluded from U.S. bombing, defense sources said today.

But such hot pursuit into the Hanoi-Haiphong areas has not yet been exercised, the sources said.

In one incident last Saturday, Soviet-built MIG17s escaped into haze and scattered clouds and reached safely before pursuing U.S. pilots could open fire on them. They fled in the direction of Hanoi.

In the second incident that day, U.S. F105 Thunderchiefs turned to confront two MIGs they had spotted above and behind them. But the MIGs made off toward Hanoi, and the U.S. pilots did not follow because, officials said, they were low on fuel.

The rules of hot pursuit never have been spelled out publicly, nor are they likely to be.

The same goes for the question of any "privileged sanctuary" for either the North Vietnamese or the Red Chinese against U. S. attack.

Hanoi and Haiphong are now off limits to U. S. bombing, but this country has given no public commitment that would bind it to spare these areas indefinitely.

School Bus Service Halted For Vandalism, Rowdiness

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — About 900 pupils at Arlington High School had to do without their school buses this morning to get to school. Bus company officials say it is the pupils' fault, charging that their vehicles "come into the garage looking like they had been hauling cattle."

Edgar A. Claffey, president of the privately owned Indianapolis Transit System, Inc., said service on 12 routes serving a four-square-mile section of the fashionable North Side had been halted.

"I know this action is going to hurt many innocent pupils, but we are going to have to have some assurance the continuing vandalism and rowdiness will end once and for all," Claffey said.

Pupils pay 40 cents a day for a round trip on the buses. The school administration does not provide transportation for high school pupils.

The Nile River, which flows south to north and is 4,136 miles long, is Egypt's only river.

Wife, 37, Would Rather Stitch A Saddle Than Cook

TAYLOR RIDGE, Ill. (AP) — Although she's a prize-winning cook, Mrs. Marvin Oak, 37, is one housewife who'd rather stitch a saddle than bake a cake.

Mrs. Oak, the wife of a Rock Island County farmer and the mother of two small boys, is a self-taught harness maker who plies her trade in a basement workshop.

"I'm the only woman harness maker I know of — almost the only harness maker I know of," the petite, brown-haired housewife said in an interview.

Mrs. Oak got started in her unusual business after she had received a leather-tooling kit as a Christmas present six years ago.

"One day when I was buying leather a man mentioned he had a whole box of harness-making tools to sell," she recalled. "So I bought them."

Then she had to teach herself to use the tools.

"I read all the books I could find on leather, and I studied all the tack I could find," she said. "Then I used the trial-and-error method."

But customers, although often surprised because she is a woman, never show any lack of confidence in her ability, Mrs. Oak said.

"The work really isn't that difficult," she insisted.

With spring, the busy season, coming up, Mrs. Oak plans to spend about 35 hours a week at her business.

Her oldest son, Greg, 8, is already in school, and the youngest, David, 5, will start kindergarten soon.

"David's down there most of the time, 'helping' me," she said. "But his help consists mostly of losing my tools."

And so's Dad. And so are all the kids. And they love it. The whole family's in hot water because Mom's new flame is a modern, durable Gas water heater.

You never know it's around. You never give it a thought. And that's the way it should be. After all, the only time most folks ever think of their water heater is when they run out of hot water. And with a dependable, family-rated Gas water heater, it never happens.

With a modern Gas water heater there are no infuriating waits between baths while a poky flameless water heater recovers from the shock of delivering a tub full of hot water. Only a Gas water heater, with its unequalled quick recovery, is always ready to deliver all the hot water a modern family needs.

With a modern Gas water heater, you'll all be in hot water . . . and you'll love it. Especially when you think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is there such a thing as a born liar? Before you say "No," let me tell you I married one.

I can understand a person lying when he has something to gain but to make up a story for no reason at all seems very odd to me.

My husband insists he sat next to Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a lunch counter in a drug store this noon and that they had a nice conversation about world affairs.

To begin with, we live in Evansville and I'm sure if Dean Rusk had been in town the papers would've been full of it. Furthermore, would our secretary of state be grabbing a sandwich in a drug store? Would he be discussing world affairs with a stranger seated next to him?

What do you make of this?—HIS WIFE.

Dear Wife: There is no such thing as a born liar. They get that way from practice. But don't be too hard on the guy in this instance. It may be that the man at the lunch counter looked like Dean Rusk and was making the most of it. People who resemble well-known personalities sometimes go in for such antics for kicks.

Mother's Wish

Dear Ann: Our lovely mother is 78 years old. She shared an apartment with a sister for many years and was very independent. Three months ago her sister passed away and now mother is alone. We worry because her eyesight is poor and she has failed noticeably since her sister's death.

There are three girls in our family and we all have comfortable homes. We want mother to live with one of us (she can have her pick) but she refuses. She wants to move into a nursing home.

We have seen some very nice nursing homes and agree they are fine for folks who have nowhere else to go. But if we allow mother to go to a home it will appear that we did not want to take her in.

Please tell mother we are right. She loves your column and one of us must read it to her on the phone every day. Thank you.—DAUGHTERS.

Dear Daughters: Whoever reads the column to mother today won't like it because I'm going to suggest that you respect her wishes.

A nursing home will offer your mother the companionship of people her own age. Furthermore, she will have the care she needs if she becomes incapacitated. I admire her independence and you girls should not deprive her of it simply because you are afraid of what people will say.

Blonde Bombshell

Dear Ann: I'm a 12-year-old girl who made a mistake with a bottle of peroxide. My hair is a mousy brown and I decided to put a blonde streak in front. I bought some peroxide but I didn't realize how strong it was. My hair got like platinum in spots and I also burned my scalp.

My mother was mad when she saw it but my father exploded. He said I can't go anywhere but to school and to church until my hair grows out because I'm not fit to be seen in public.

I've been suffering for my mistake for two weeks and it looks like I have two years to go because my hair grows awfully slowly. Can you help by printing my letter and asking for a shorter sentence?—PRISONER OF ZENDA.

Dear Zenda: A pair of scissors could shorten your sentence but don't do it yourself. Go to a beauty shop and get the platinum stuff thinned out. In a matter of days you'll look human again.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youth, 15, Indicted In Deaths Of Parents

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A Butler County grand jury Monday indicted 15-year-old Jerry Lee Sanderson of Slippery Rock R.D. 4

for murder and arson in the deaths of his mother and father. The body of Sanderson's father, Henry, 54, was found Jan. 18 with four bullet wounds near the burned out remains of the family home. Inside the charred ruins was a body believed to be that of the youth's mother, Dorothy, 44. Sanderson was arrested the same day his parents were found when the car he was driving skidded into a snowbank in Whitehall, Wis.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Some Children Are Very Sensitive

If you have only one child, this child may seem to you very sensitive. His or her own feelings may be easily hurt. The chances are that you are inclined to suffer intensely when this happens. In your effort to protect the child's feelings you may often avoid saying "No" Dr. Garry Myers to him when you know you should or to reverse your decision then. When he sees how he causes you to suffer he gets satisfaction from his own tyranny and goes on with more of it. Think of the child who often comes to you telling you that another child has mistreated him on the playground or at school or that his teacher has been severe with him.

For example, a mother once wrote me of her daughter who often came home from school telling her she had no friends there. "Often I cry with her as she tells of her unhappy experiences at school."

IF YOU are easily hurt on hearing or seeing your child suffer, he easily can exaggerate his report and you easily can practice him in self-pity. Even at the high school level, a child may chronically report some unhappy experiences. Some mothers write of such instances, telling often of a teacher who picks on him or of some schoolmates who do. Daily at the dinner table this may be heard. It's not easy to listen to these accounts without betraying strong feelings of sympathy toward the complaining child.

But if we parents must constantly hear such complaints at home we may be tempted to do much harm to the complaining child. If we readily pass judgment, then, we suggest that we draw conclusions from incomplete evidence and imply that this complaining child has no responsibility for the problems facing him.

We might do better if we did not make any remarks than except to remind the child that he might well look into himself and his own ways and attempt to ascertain how he might reduce his unhappy experiences.

ALWAYS WE parents should be on guard when a child often reports that he has been mistreated at school. Besides we might well remind this child that all of us at some time have to get along with persons we don't always consider fair; that he might try harder to find out what his teacher expects of him and to discover ways to measure up to these expectations.

When there are two or more children in the family, one may feel he stands better in the family than another child.

A mother writes of her daughter, seven, with a sister three: "My problem is she is a very sensitive child. I try my best to understand her feelings and to show her I am always at her side. For example, if she has an argument with another child and I try to settle it, she in turn says I'm defending the other child. Our young daughter, three, is very jealous of the older one. The older one says I baby her too much. Her father says the same."

My reply in part:

MY GUESS is that the older one is suffering the more from jealousy and that you favor this older one; that, moreover, you need to let the other one more often face reality. Do try harder to be consistent and manage yourself better.

"How a $10,000 Nationwide Insurance policy can be worth $34,000 to your family"

NATIONWIDE's new Family Security Plan-for "getting started" families with small budgets-can pay more than 3 times the face amount.

Which means your family could collect as much as $34,000 from a $10,000 policy.

Cost is low. Protection is highest when the children are young and your wife needs it most. If you wish, Nationwide pays the premiums if you become totally disabled before 60.

Hancock Court Fills Post And Acts On Other Matters

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners approved the nomination of Vito Catenaro of Weirton as Commissioner of Accounts during a meeting Monday at the courthouse in New Cumberland.

Catenaro will replace Emmanuel B. Loucas, who submitted a letter of resignation to the court Feb. 25.

The motion for Catenaro's appointment was made by William C. Graham of Chester and seconded by James Finley of Weirton, court president.

In other action yesterday, the court awarded a bid for the construction of a separating wall in the basement of the courthouse to Mickey Boyles of Newell.

The wall is to be built in conjunction with installation of voting booths and ballot boxes for the May primary. The construction cost quoted by Boyles was $380.

No other bid was received. The court also voted to advertise for bids to equip the county offices with 15 fire extinguishers in accordance with requirements listed by the Industrial Appraisal Co.

Upon the request of Andrew J. Kondik of Weirton, Hancock County Civil Defense director, $1,100 was transferred from the Old and New Construction Improvement Fund to the Civil Defense Budget for the purchase of a generator to be installed in the Emergency Operating Center, which will be located at Lock No. 9 in New Cumberland.

Kondik was granted permission to attend the U. S. Civil Defense Council Conference in Washington, D. C., March 21-23.

The court approved the employment of Mrs. Lois M. Deese of Newell as secretary in the office of Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, at a salary of $240 a month.

Present at yesterday's session were Finley, Jack Evans of New Cumberland, and Graham, Commissioners; George Konchar, county clerk; Mrs. Mary Stewart, court clerk, and Sheriff Joseph Rodak.

Area Motorist Fined On Reduced Charge

EAST PALESTINE — Robert Neil of R. D. 1, operator of Neil's Tavern of Route 14, was fined $25 and costs on a reduced charge of reckless operation by County Judge Herbert Artman Monday.

Neil had been cited for driving while intoxicated following an accident early in February. At yesterday's hearing, at which he was represented by an attorney, he said he had not been intoxicated at the time of the mishap, but had been "upset" and later drank some intoxicants.

He said he would plead guilty to a reckless operation charge to which Judge Artman agreed.

Former Bank Teller Arrested For Theft

WHEELING — The FBI arrested a former Wheeling bank teller Monday on charges he obtained $4,280 from a customer's account.

Charged is Billy Ray Beckett, 33, formerly a teller at the Bank of Warwood.

Beckett is specifically accused of making a false entry in a savings account balance last Dec. 13. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and waived preliminary hearing.

children, Clarence Hephner of Lisbon R. D. 5 and Mrs. Edward Lottman, at home; a niece, Miss Betty Chandler of Cleveland; seven grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Henry Funeral Home in Lisbon. The Rev. Frederick Shiltz of the First Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Joseph Betteridge

Services for Joseph A. Betteridge, who died early Monday at the Newtunk Nursing Home, will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Roy Fatherly

LISBON — Roy Joseph Fatherly, 51, of Brookfield Ave., Lisbon R. D. 2, died at 5:55 a.m. today at Salem City Hospital after a seven-year illness.

He had resided in this vicinity his entire life. He was born Aug. 24, 1913, in Lisbon, the son of Robert and Margaret Barnhardt Fatherly. He was a former employee of the Hood Chemical Co.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Irma Pfouts Fatherly, whom he married March 8, 1962; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Bailey of Lisbon; a brother, Carl Fatherly of Lisbon, and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Fatherly of Lisbon.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Eells - Leggett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick Shiltz officiating. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the funeral home.

Pittsburgh Woman To Be Honored In Art

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh woman is one of 25 persons from 19 states who will be honored by the National Gallery of Art in Washington on March 17 for "distinguished service to education in art," the gallery director announced Monday.

John Walker said Miss Mary Adeline McKibbin will receive a medal and $500.

Miss McKibbin is a former art director of the Pittsburgh public schools and was named "Art Educator of the Year" by the national gallery in 1961.

Western Kentucky Stuns Loyola, 105-86, At Kent

Dayton, St. Joe's, Davidson Win Openers

By The Associated Press

The State of Kentucky has a college basketball powerhouse at Lexington — ask anybody. It also has quite a team at Bowling Green — ask George Ireland.

Ireland took his fourth-ranked Chicago Loyola Ramblers into the first round of the NCAA Midwest Regional at Kent, Ohio, Monday night, and unranked Western Kentucky took them right out again.

Coach Johnny Oldham's Hilltoppers beat the Ramblers 105-86.

Another member of the Top Ten, No. 8 Providence, also lost. The Friars were clobbered 65-48 in a first round NCAA Eastern Regional game at Blacksburg, Va., after trailing only 43-42 with 10:48 remaining.

In the second game at Blacksburg, Southern Conference champion Davidson got 39 points from Rodney Knowles and advanced by thrashing Rhode Island, the Yankee Conference titlist, 95-65.

The Friars were clobbered 65-48 by seven-ranked St. Joseph's, Pa., in a first-round NCAA Eastern Regional game at Blacksburg, Va., after trailing only 43-42 with 10:48 remaining.

Kentucky tuned up for its game with Dayton by closing out its regular season with a 103-74 trouncing of Tulane in Lexington.

Dayton beat Miami of Ohio, 56-51 in their first game at Kent.

The Wildcats could meet Western Kentucky if they beat Dayton and the Hilltoppers get past Big Ten champion Michigan, which closed out its regular season Monday night by losing to Michigan State 87-77, despite 35 points by Player of the Year Cazzie Russell.

In the only other NCAA tournament games — the first-round regionals at Wichita, Kan. — third-ranked Texas Western beat Oklahoma City 89-74, and Houston ousted Colorado State University 82-72.

Sixth-ranked Kansas stormed into the national playoffs by clinching its 19th Big Eight conference title and first clear-cut championship since 1957, with an 85-65 home court thumping of Colorado.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action was Nebraska. The ninth-ranked Cornhuskers, second in the Big Eight, finished their season with an 85-64 victory over Oklahoma State at Lincoln, Neb.

Student-Faculty Contest Slated

The Beaver Local Faculty will meet a team of Beaver Local Varsity B Club and Tri-Hi-Y students in a benefit basketball game Friday at 8 p. m. in the high school gym.

All proceeds from the game will be donated to "Dollars for Scholars."

Tickets will be sold at the door at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Members of the faculty team include Lloyd Stockdale, Urban Petros, Ted Taylor, Dick Parsons, Don Ross, Clyde Pritchett, and Jim Agich.

The student team includes Alan Copestick, Dale Moore, Allan Moore, Dan Wade, Don Woods, Bill Cole, Arnold McLaughlin, Jeff Lane, Jim Sigler, Sid Cowan, Bill Croxall and Bill Monthooth. The students will be coached by Larry Roberts and Rich Shilling.

W. Kentucky, Dayton Head To Iowa City

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer KENT, Ohio (AP) — Dayton and Western Kentucky pointed toward Iowa City today, bent on continuing NCAA basketball tournament success.

The two teams registered contrasting victories Monday night in first round action at the mid-east regional.

Dayton handled Miami of Ohio for the third time this season, 58-51, and Western out - sped fourth-ranked Chicago Loyola in posting a surprising 105-86 conquest.

Coach Don Donohue's Flyers (23-4) will tangle with No. 1 ranked Kentucky Friday and Western (24-2) goes against Big Ten champion Michigan in the other half of the twin bill.

The Hilltoppers, hitting a stunning 62 per cent the second half and 55 per cent for the game from the field, practically blew the rapid Ramblers off the court with their racehorse style and fancy shooting.

Dwight Smith canned 29, Clem Haskins 25 and Greg Smith 19 as they paced the Kentuckians, who led by only six at halftime. The Hilltoppers outscored Loyola 20-7 in the first six minutes of the second period and breezed from there.

Dayton had to overcome Miami's stalling tactics and use Hank Finkel's 25 points to break the backs of the defensive-minded Redskins.

The Flyers, showing only 10 points in the first 10 minutes, finally emerged with a 32-25 halftime lead as Finkel dunked 17 of his tallies by intermission.

Dayton bolted to a 44-31 advantage early in the second half as Miami went more than six minutes without a basket. The Redskins could never get closer than five after that.

Donohue was pleased with his 6-foot-11 center's work: "Finkel was outstanding. He turned in a great effort offensively. His threat inside gave openings to everyone else."

Miami coach Dick Shriver echoed Donohue's sentiments: "Let's face it, we just don't have anyone to handle Finkel."

How can we contain a 7-footer with a 6-6 man? (Finkel had 17 rebounds to 19 for the whole Reskin team.)

Local Members Capture Awards At Rabbit Show

Four members of the Tri-State Rabbit Club captured first place awards at the Stark County Rabbit Show Sunday held at the Canton Fair Grounds.

Mrs. Mildred Beatty won three firsts with her entries in the Ruby Eye Parrish Class. The awards were won for the best senior buck, best senior doe and the best opposite sex in all colors.

Miss Vivian Anne Jones won a first place for her entry in the Ruby Eye Parrish Class for the best junior buck.

First places in the Silver Martins class were captured by Therman Blazer of the best chocolate senior, best senior doe and best chocolate senior doe.

Floyd Beatty's entries in the Silver Martins Class took wins in the best black junior doe, best in all colors and best senior buck.

In the New Zealand Red class, Ray Vaughn's entries monopolized with wins in the best senior, best 6 to 8 months, best junior, best of breed and best opposite sex in all colors.

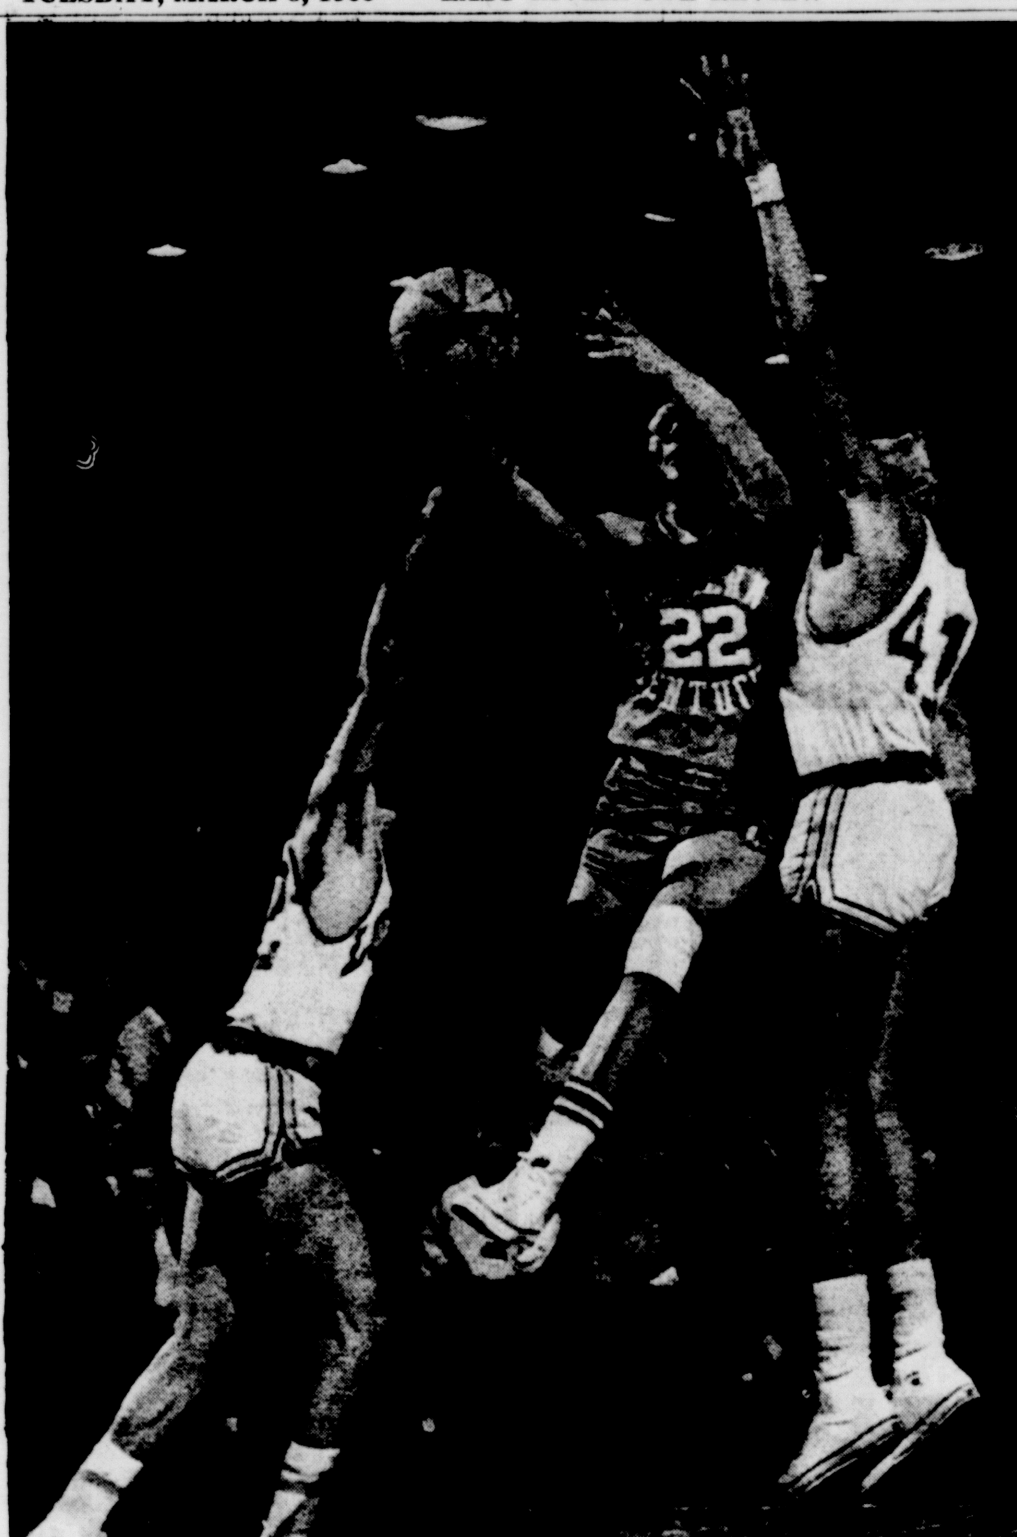

The next meeting will be March 19 at Struthers, Ohio. The Spring Show will be June 5 at Canfield.

Toronto's Answer Due Today On Fight Site

TORONTO (AP) — Even if the Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title fight is never held, it will be in the records.

The bout went into the records of the Ontario Legislature Monday when Ontario Labor Minister Leslie Rowntree discussed it before making a decision whether to allow the rejected, refused and kicked-out fight to be held in Toronto.

Rowntree could make his decision today.

Earlier the fight was recorded by such bodies as the New York State Athletic Commission, which refused the fight; the Illinois attorney general and the Illinois Athletic Commission, which kicked the bout out of Chicago, and the Verdun City Council, which chased it out of that Montreal suburb.

Rowntree went before the Legislature after receiving the recommendations of Merv McKenzie, the Ontario athletic director.

Although Rowntree has final say on the fight, he apparently felt he should bring the matter before the Legislature for an airing.

Harold Ballard, executive vice president of Maple Leaf Gardens had said Sunday night the controversial bout would be held there. But Monday he said: "If the government is against it, there will be no fight in Maple Leaf Gardens. We will not consider it on an outlaw basis."

However, he added, "We expect the fight to be okayed. One official of Main Bout, Inc., which has television rights to the fight, was taking a wait and see attitude."

"We're just sitting, waiting," Mike Malitz said in New York. "What else can we do?"

However, Robert Arum of

Taylor Named Assistant With Steeler Staff

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hugh (Bones) Taylor, dismissed at the end of last season as head coach of the American Football League's Houston Oilers, was named offensive end coach Monday by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

The hiring of Taylor, 43, completes the staff of new Steeler coach Bill Austin, signed in January to succeed Mike Nixon.

Taylor was a standout pass receiver with the Washington Redskins from 1947 to 1954, teaming with quarterback Sammy Baugh.

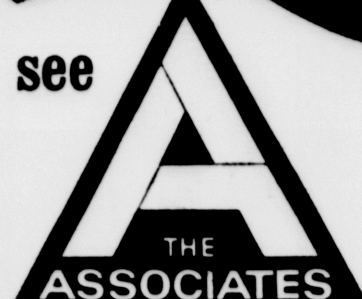

Another attitude — one of "show me" — was taken by Terrell. The 6-foot-6 World Boxing Association champion said in Pleasantville, N.J., he won't believe any site is certain "until I see Clay in the same ring with me."

Meanwhile, Clay, the man who literally put the show on the road, has remained silent of late.

The controversy surrounding the fight was touched off when the man who is recognized by most everyone but the WBA as champion protested his draft status being changed from I-Y, an exempt status, to I-A which would make him eligible for military service.

Uniontown, Farrell Win WPIAL Tilts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Uniontown, Farrell and Johnstown Monday night kept alive their dreams of a PIAA Class A basketball title, while Bishop McCort qualified for the western class A finals of the PCIAA.

Uniontown opened a double-header at the Civic Arena with a 74-43 stomp of Freedom. Ray Parsons, Uniontown's 6-5 senior, pumped in 23 points and swept down 22 rebounds to pace the Raider victory.

Farrell closed out the double-header by making a 68-50 triumph out of what had been a close game against Jeannette. Earl Shapman tallied 22 points for the winners.

Farrell and Uniontown will meet Thursday in the WPIAL Class A semi-finals.

Johnstown advanced to a Thursday meeting for the District 6 title by humbling Huntingdon 59-46 at Altoona. Dom Huntingdon contributed 19 points to his winning team.

At Johnstown, Bishop McCort knocked off Erie Cathedral Prep, 80-58, behind the 24-point shooting of Rudy Munko. Bishop McCort meets South Hills Catholic Sunday for the western A title.

Twyman's 22 Paces Royals Over Knicks

Twyman, who plans to retire at the end of his 11th season in pro ball, scored 39 points Saturday night while leading the Royals to an overtime victory against New York and contributed 22 points Sunday to a Cincinnati victory at Detroit.

Twyman, who spent most of the season on the bench, got his chance to start Saturday night as part of the "Jack Twyman Night" program.

"I'm still shaking my head over the wonderful things that happened to me last week. The aren't many athletes who bow out the way people have made it possible for me to do," he remarked.

But he's still going to retire—partly because his flourishing insurance agency needs more attention, along with his other interests.

Youths Can Sign Up At Lawrenceville

The Lawrenceville Athletic Association will sponsor both junior and senior baseball teams in the South Side Athletic Club League for the 1966 season.

Boys, 8-15, who are interested in trying out for the teams may sign up Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Lawrenceville American Legion. Applicants must furnish a birth certificate, James Cox, secretary, announced.

Don Carlos, 6-4 junior from Otterbein in Ohio; Phil Jackson, 6-8 junior from North Dakota; Johnny Comeaux, 6-6 senior from Grambling in Louisiana, and George McNeil, 6-2 senior from Southern Illinois, were named as Humes' teammates on the first team.

Bobby Ritch of Valdosta State in Georgia, Gene Summers of Northern Michigan, Howard Heppner of Seattle Pacific, John Dickson of Arkansas State and Ken Wilburn of Central State, Ohio, were selected for the second team.

become a two-time Little All-America in college basketball.

The 6-foot-4 senior was far out in front in the voting by 101 sportswriters and broadcasters for the 1966 Little A-A announced Monday by The Associated Press.

Humes, a native of Madison, Ind., who made the 1965 Little A-A as a junior, "is as good as any player in the country, major or minor," in the words of Ray Marquette of the Indianapolis Star. Most of the voters agreed, and in the opinion of Earl Mishler of the Logansport, Ind., Press, Humes was the Player of the Year.

The previous six two-time Little All-Americans were Dick Barnett of Tennessee State in 1958-

How can we sell a 10¢ cigar for 6¢?

It's no secret. We make more cigars of one brand than anyone and spend only a fraction for advertising. Still, sometimes we wish we could spend more advertising this fine cigar value. But, we'd have to raise our price or cut our quality. Then, we might not sell as many. What do you think?

7 Instructors Resign; 2 Appointments Made

The resignations of four elementary teachers and three junior high instructors were accepted Monday night by the Board of Education, which also approved two teaching appointments, authorized a training program for the Liverpool Township volunteer fire department and okayed the requests of nine organizations for rentals of school facilities.

The resignations included Mrs. Eva Pittenger, Mrs. Donna Ferguson, Mrs. Alice Simmen and Mrs. Beryl Lightner, elementary teachers; Dean McKinney, Westgate Junior High science teacher, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bowen, also of Westgate Junior High. Bowen is an industrial arts teacher and his wife teaches French and English.

IN REPORTING the resignations, Blair said Mrs. Pittenger and Mrs. Lightner are leaving; Mrs. Ferguson is leaving the city; Mrs. Simmen does not plan to teach next year; McKinney will study for a master's degree at Penn State under a Science Foundation scholarship, and Mr. and Mrs. Bowen "are leaving for financial reasons."

Mrs. Rose Kay Rambo was appointed sixth-grade teacher at McKinley and Mrs. Alice Barbour as a high school commercial teacher. Both are teaching now, Blair said.

The board gave formal approval to the firemen's training program after the superintendent said the salary of the instructor, Robert Lloyd, assistant chief of the Wellsville department, will be reimbursed by the State Department of Education. Lloyd will receive $180 for the 36-hour course, he said.

The board also authorized the County Election Board to use Neville, Klondyke, Horace Mann, McKinley, Lincoln, Pleasant Heights, Westgate, LaCroft and Taft buildings for precinct polling places and the Pleasant Heights building for voter registration on March 22.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, pointed out polling places become more difficult to obtain each year and cited a section of the state law which provides for the use of schools.

RICHARD SMITH, who made the motion for approval, objected strenuously to the reference to the state code. "It's not necessary to put that at the bottom of every letter we get to use the schools. I think we could stop them if we wanted to," John R. Woerner commented. "If we find it necessary to go to the polls at a special election, I think they (the election board) should give us some consideration on the number needed to count the ballots."

"I believe they used an excessive number at the special election (on the building program) and it cost the school district quite a bit of money," Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $130,049 in all school funds, including $15,644 in the general operating account.

The board received $100,000 as an advance on the real estate taxes, Miss Liebschner said, adding that County Auditor Kenneth Bell said an advance will be made to all school districts by March 21.

The clerk also reported that $131,000 earned an interest on the school building bonds has been invested in savings certificates.

THE RENTALS and fees included: Columbiana County Youth for Christ, classroom at Westgate on the afternoons of March 11, 25, April 15, 29 and May 13, 26, no charge; Little Potters League, Memorial Auditorium, March 14, for annual tournament, no charge.

Kinoki Council of Camp Fire Girls, Memorial Auditorium on March 19 and 26 for rehearsal of a program it will present March 27, custodial fees; William H. Smith, Westgate Auditorium, March 21-23, for a return showing of the film, "The Restless Ones," $50 per night plus custodial fees.

Glennom volunteer fire department, school playground June 5-11 for annual carnival with a $50 deposit to cover any breakage and for cleaning the grounds; East Liverpool Teachers Association, Westgate cafeteria, April 14, for annual banquet, cafeteria fees only.

East Liverpool Chapter of Sweet Adelines, East Junior High gym March 22 for rehearsal for Sweet Adelines show, $15 plus custodial fees, and East Liverpool Jaycees, Memorial Auditorium on April 16 for a wrestling show, $100 plus custodial fees, and Westgate gym and auditorium May 20 for annual post-prom party, no charge.

Harry D. McConville urged other board members to also write Ohio Sens. Frank Lausche and Stephen Young and Rep. Wayne L. Hays to urge them to try to stop President Johnson's proposal to curtail the federal milk program in schools. "It could be very serious to our community," he said.

Woerner commented Jerry Pillar for qualifying for the state wrestling tournament this weekend and also commended the high school basketball and gymnastics teams.

Samuel M. Brown suggested a letter of thanks be sent to the Potters stage band for the music it furnished at the basketball games.

Three At Palestine Pass Patrolman Test
EAST PALESTINE - Three men who took a Civil Service examination for the post of city patrolman received passing grades Monday night and will be certified to Mayor Robert Harding.

They are Peter M. Kintz, Raymond Herr and Allen Huston. The post of patrolman became vacant with the resignation of Clifford Davis.

Blair commented, "Nothing is as important to our community as our youth. Whatever we do will be reflected in their growth and development."

POINTING OUT that 7 per cent of the general fund goes for salaries, he added, "We cannot operate the system any more economically than we do at present."

Although declining to discuss what action might have to be taken, the superintendent indicated that the size of the classes might be increased if the board is unable to hire teachers and also indicated that some activities might be curtailed.

In addition to the 77 per cent set aside in the general fund for salaries, the board must pay 11 per cent into retirement funds for school employees, Brown interjected.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, president, added that left only 12 per cent of the operating budget for other current expenses.

Gerald Cartwright, a representative of the International Printing Pressmen's Union who met with the board on another matter, urged the board to write letters to various labor organizations seeking their support.

"Labor organizations have a reputation of being against taxes, but we are not against taxes for this specific purpose," he commented.

During the question-and-answer session between Porter and Blair, the superintendent said 30 teachers, or approximately 20 per cent of the staff, left the system last year.

If the present trend continues, 40 teachers may leave this year "unless some holding power develops between now and September."

TERMING the teaching situation critical, Blair said he has only six applications this year and discussed a trip last week to Salem (W. Va.) College to interview four applicants.

He also pointed out the city has many classes now exceeding the formula of 30 pupils per teacher on which the state foundation is based. Some elementary classes have as many as 43 pupils, he said.

He contrasted East Liverpool's present salary schedule of $4,500 to $5,700 for those with bachelor's degrees and $4,900 to $6,400 for master's degrees with those of Stanton Local, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Salem, Mingo Junction and Hancock County.

In the next school year, Beaver Local salaries will range from $4,800 to $6,300 for bachelor's degrees to $5,300 to $6,800 for master's degrees. Wellsville salaries now are $4,500 to $5,700 for bachelors to $4,900 to $6,400 for master's, he said.

Stanton Local pays $5,000 to a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree and a top of $8,000 for a master's, while the Salem range is $4,900 for a bachelor's to $7,800 for a master's.

The maximum salaries in Hancock County now are $6,400 with a bachelor's degree and $7,000 for a master's, but within two years, he said, the maximum for bachelor's will be $8,405.

IN REFERENCE to a remark made by Finlay about the $200 increase authorized by the Ohio legislature last year for all teachers, Blair said the increase is only for two years. "There is absolutely no assurance it will continue."

The 3.5-mill levy would put the city district in a more competitive position, although it still could not compete with Hancock County, the superintendent said.

One mill based on the city's tax valuation would yield $53,214 and the levy, if approved, would provide an additional $180,000 a year, Blair continued. However, only about $160,000 would be available for salary increases, since 11 per cent would have to be deducted for retirement payments and other deductions would be made by the county auditor and treasurer for collecting the money and for workmen's compensation.

When the levy was voted on last fall to provide salary increases for all school employees, it polled less than 27 per cent of the votes cast. The final tally was 1,906 in favor and 5,206 opposed. A majority was required for passage.

In his brief appearance, Finlay had asked whether federal aid was available for the school building program and if federal money had been sought for salaries.

Blair replied that school districts could not ask for a blanket sum, but could apply for money to pay salaries of teachers for specific projects.

Finlay turned over to Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, some data on federal aid and then suggested the new senior high school be named the "John F. Kennedy High School."

future, we hope to advertise for bids."

Blair commented, "Nothing is as important to our community as our youth. Whatever we do will be reflected in their growth and development."

POINTING OUT that 7 per cent of the general fund goes for salaries, he added, "We cannot operate the system any more economically than we do at present."

Although declining to discuss what action might have to be taken, the superintendent indicated that the size of the classes might be increased if the board is unable to hire teachers and also indicated that some activities might be curtailed.

In addition to the 77 per cent set aside in the general fund for salaries, the board must pay 11 per cent into retirement funds for school employees, Brown interjected.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, president, added that left only 12 per cent of the operating budget for other current expenses.

Gerald Cartwright, a representative of the International Printing Pressmen's Union who met with the board on another matter, urged the board to write letters to various labor organizations seeking their support.

"Labor organizations have a reputation of being against taxes, but we are not against taxes for this specific purpose," he commented.

During the question-and-answer session between Porter and Blair, the superintendent said 30 teachers, or approximately 20 per cent of the staff, left the system last year.

If the present trend continues, 40 teachers may leave this year "unless some holding power develops between now and September."

TERMING the teaching situation critical, Blair said he has only six applications this year and discussed a trip last week to Salem (W. Va.) College to interview four applicants.

He also pointed out the city has many classes now exceeding the formula of 30 pupils per teacher on which the state foundation is based. Some elementary classes have as many as 43 pupils, he said.

He contrasted East Liverpool's present salary schedule of $4,500 to $5,700 for those with bachelor's degrees and $4,900 to $6,400 for master's degrees with those of Stanton Local, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Salem, Mingo Junction and Hancock County.

Dowdell Gets Health Group Leader Post

LISBON - Paul Dowdell of Summitville was elected president of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Advisory Council Monday night.

Other officers elected were Richard Sanford of East Liverpool, vice president, and Mrs. Edna Glausser of Lisbon R. D. 5, secretary.

Frank Murray of Lisbon R. D. 4 was elected to a five-year term as a board member, replacing Felix P. Butch of Lisbon, whose term expired.

Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leontonia was re-elected to a four-year term on the board.

The council approved a 1967 budget of $49,413.

Dr. Merle K. Singer, county health commissioner, reported on the consolidation of health departments and activities of the County Health Department.

Potter Rejects Offers For Coin, Takes A Day Off

Offers for an apparently rare 1943 copper penny have been turned down by a Wellsville potter, who found the coin Monday morning.

James Daniels of 215 Highland Ave., who discovered the coin in some change in his pocket while working yesterday at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. at Chester, failed to report for work this morning.

His wife explained the excitement apparently was just too much.

Reports are that he has been offered as high as $2,000 cash for the coin. Mrs. Daniels said the family has made no attempt to determine the actual value of the penny, although it has been placed in a plastic case for protection. It also has been put in a "very safe" place, she commented.

The Treasury Department says only aluminum alloy pennies were made in 1943, but collectors differ, claiming that at least three others have turned up and are in private collections.

One such coin in a private collection was valued at $4,000. Daniels' penny carries a Denver mint mark.

Britain Named Head Of Palestine Rotary

EAST PALESTINE - Harold Britain of N. Market St., auto agency operator, was elected president of the Rotary Club Monday night. He succeeds Harry Andrews, postmaster.

Others chosen were Ray Humphreys, vice president; Howard Hunter, secretary; and Arthur Hill, treasurer. Hill, E.C. Rhodes and Richard Scott were appointed club representatives to the Hot Stove League.

Mishaps Hurt 7 From Area

Three young people injured in school mishaps were among seven area residents treated at City Hospital Monday.

Jo-Anne Spencer, daughter of Alonzo Spencer of 1231 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a laceration in a fall against a desk at school.

Dennie Haight, son of Lawrence Haight of 215 1/2 Washington St., Newell, suffered a finger injury in gym class at school.

Cynthia Wilkinson, daughter of David Wilkinson of 1723 Wooster Ave., received an injury to the left elbow in a gym class.

Robert Bosco of 1042 Rubicon St. was treated for lacerations of two fingers of the right hand suffered on an electric saw.

While at work at the T. K. Roofing Co., Thomas Newland of 1945 Dresden Ave., received an injury to the right ankle when compound dropped on it.

Diane Foltz, daughter of Donald Foltz of 513 Jefferson St., Newell, suffered scalds of the hips when she fell into hot water.

Mrs. Dorothy Uccellini of Smiths Ferry R.D. was treated for a cut finger received on a can at home.

Sewage Projects Given Salineville Council Review

SALINEVILLE - The facilities of the newly-organized Columbiana County Water and Sewer District were outlined by Sharon Quigley, county commissioner's aide, during a special meeting of Council Monday night.

Quigley reported on the current survey of county sewer and water needs and discussed the methods by which subdivisions can participate in providing services to their communities.

Various federal grants are available for construction of sewage plants and lines, he said.

Councilmen are to study the county arrangement to determine if Salineville can feasibly provide a sewage plant under the county program.

Youth Held For Court On Burglary Charges

Frank Wells, 18, of Francis St., Pleasant Heights, was bound over to the Grand Jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after waiving a preliminary hearing on a charge he burglarized a St. Clair Ave. home Jan. 18, stealing a guitar and amplifier worth a total of $150.

Represented by Donald D. Shay, Wells pleaded not guilty to the charge signed by Police Capt. Robert Pyle. The officer said Wells signed a statement in which he admitted entering the home of Richard Kontner at 1050 St. Clair Ave., taking the musical equipment and pawned it at Youngstown.

Shaffer Chosen As President Of School Workers

C. A. Shaffer, custodian at Pleasant Heights School, was elevated to the presidency of the Pottery City Chapter of the Ohio Association of Public School Employees at a special meeting Saturday of the organization comprised of non-teaching employees in East Liverpool and Wellsville systems.

Other officers named were Mrs. Jane Judge, custodian at McDonald School in Wellsville, vice president, and Harold Wright, custodian at LaCroft, secretary-treasurer.

William T. McGrew, custodian at Klondyke, was named to a three-year term as trustee while Mrs. Bernice Jagusch, Wellsville High School custodian, was elected to a two-year term and Mrs. Rachel Emmerting, a cafeteria worker at Westgate, was picked for a one-year term.

Shaffer appointed a committee comprised of William Smith, chairman, Charles S. O'Hara, Robert S. Madden and Mrs. Jagusch to represent the chapter in Wellsville schools. Named to represent non-certificated personnel in East Liverpool schools were Mrs. Emmerting, chairman, Harold Hadley, Curtis Miller and Shaffer.

A committee also was named to contact the East Liverpool Teachers Association to ask that non-certificated employees be included in the proposed levy for salary increases.

Lawrence DeCresco, state field representative for OAPSE, spoke and explained the duties of each officer.

Recording Of Album Set By Tamburitians

The St. George Tamburitians of Midland on April 10 will record an album of Serbian lyrics and music composed by Donald Knezovich of Conway.

The group is not accepting public engagements during the Lenten season, but is holding rehearsals as usual.

The Tamburitians will begin a schedule of personal appearances after Easter.

Mike Reich is chairman for a candy sale which is being conducted to help sponsor a summer musical camping trip for the members.

Why A Shortage Of Doctors, Aides?

In many realms of U. S. medicine, acute shortages are cropping up today. In part, they're due to the very successes of medical science. This second of five articles on medicine today examines some key areas of concern.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Dozens of reasons are advanced as causes of today's shortage of doctors and health personnel. The diagnosis includes, ironically, two elements that have made American medicine very good medicine indeed. One is its quality, stemming partly from very high standards of medical school training, most observers point out. But this has limited the output, with only about 8,000 new doctors being graduated annually from U.S. schools.

Another is brilliant progress from research — new drugs, new surgical and medical and rehabilitation techniques, all making the physician far more effective than in the old sugar pill and sympathy days of medicine. Today's doctors can do more. But, as in open-heart surgery, a whole team of surgeons, physicians, nurses and other skilled people may become involved for one patient at a time.

A cardiologist estimates 45,000 heart attack victims, who now die soon after their attacks, could be saved each year if major hospitals all had intensive care units. But each unit requires a 24-hour staff of nurses, doctors and technicians, razor sharp in skills, ready to rush to a patient's bedside at the first signal of trouble. Too many go into research for "nice 9 to 5 jobs, leaving fewer physicians on the firing line seeing patients," says one busy New York City internist. "Lots of the research is minor." Administrative tasks, government and military service, other jobs also employ doctors. Right now, only 63 out of every 100 U.S. doctors are engaged in private practice.

Each year, 10,000 young American men and women are turned down in their applications to enter medical schools—88 of them now. There are five schools of osteopathic medicine.

At least 13 new medical schools are being started, but it takes 10 years and $35 million or more from initial plans for a school to the first graduating class. And medical education is costly—$16,000 to $20,000 over four years.

Many rejected U.S. students have been going to foreign schools, but some of those schools are now closing their doors to them. Americans trained abroad are estimated to comprise about one-quarter of the 1,400 newly licensed doctors each year who studied outside the United States and Canada. The rest constitute part of the "brain drain" from other countries.

"Organized medicine and organizations of medical education are not facing up to the problems of the medical manpower shortage," says Dr. Elliot Corday of Los Angeles, president of the American College of Cardiology.

Organizations, like individuals often tend to resist change. Dr. Michael E. DeBakey of Houston, Tex. notes that professional organizations tend to become "guild-like, and rigidly and staunchly defend their health domains."

IS IT STILL necessary to train all medical students alike, he asks? Present laws virtually require this — to obtain his license, the physician must pass examinations measuring his knowledge in many areas of medicine.

"But it is really necessary for an ophthalmologist to know how many bones there are in the foot?" he asked.

Numerous medical schools are in a ferment of re-examining and experimenting with their curricula, to streamline teaching, make it more effective.

A few are experimenting with compressing four years of college and four of medical school into six years total for picked students, and report this approach looks promising.

Some observers stress a shortage of modern skills as a serious problem.

The majority of doctors never go back to school for refresher courses, and are "practicing today's medicine with yesterday's tools and information," declared Dr. W. Albert Sullivan, Jr., of the University of Minnesota Medical School.

The manpower shortage includes pediatricians and psychiatrists, medical school faculty—nearly 1,000 positions are listed as unfilled; nurses, technologists, medical social workers and librarians, hospital pharmacists, X-ray technicians, orderlies, and many others.

Low pay often is blamed. Girls can earn higher incomes, in most cities, as stenographers than registered nurses.

Some groups of hospital workers are notoriously underpaid, said Dr. John Knowles of Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, and "you can't feed the poor sawdust and expect them to protect your birthright." And if, as applies to some big hospitals, "You have dingy, shabby surroundings for people to work in, you wind up with shabby personnel, and not many of them."

Bonuses Offered Key Servicemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special bonuses totaling $43 million are awaiting 86,000 highly trained servicemen—if they re-enlist. The Pentagon theorizes the bonuses cost less than training replacements for enlisted men with critical skills.

The special bonuses vary for importance and supply of the skill. Servicemen with some key skills, such as missile mechanics and sonar technicians, could receive up to $10,000—the maximum $8,000 "variable re-enlistment bonus" plus the standard $2,000 re-enlistment bonus.

The new bonuses, approved by Congress, will be allotted over the next 16 months. And the Defense Department is expected to ask for an extension of the program beyond June 1967.

In 1910, Glenn H. Curtiss made the first continuous airplane flight, covering the 137 miles in 152 minutes.

District Session Draws Lawyers

Eight area attorneys attended a seminar and banquet of District 13 of the Ohio Bar Association Saturday night at the Pick - Ohio Hotel in Youngstown.

Robert A. Kapp of East Liverpool, president of the Columbus County Bar Association, and Ben H. Berman of East Liverpool, past president, attended a special luncheon at which a discussion was held on the anti-poverty program and its effect on Legal Aid Societies. Seminars were held in the afternoon. James Preston, presi## dent of the Ohio Bar Association, was the principal speaker at the banquet.

Besides Kapp and Berman, others attending were Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzard and Lawrence W. Smith of East Liverpool, James McSweeney of Wellsville, Robert Hartford of East Palestine and John Beck and Donald Lewis of Lisbon.

The Everglades National Park in Florida is the nation's third largest national park. It covers an area of 1,302,509 acres. Only Yellowstone and Mount McKinley National Park, in Alaska, are bigger.

Mutual Fire Aid Plan Continuance Cleared

Council approved legislation Monday night authorizing a three-year renewal in a long-standing mutual aid fire protection plan with Wellsville.

The resolution authorizes Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrev to sign the contract with Wellsville officials. Wellsville Council earlier approved legislation for its half of the bargain.

The agreement provides that each community will send fire equipment to the aid of the other, upon request, in case of a major blaze.

If the first part of your vehicle identification number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00<sup>00</sup> happens to be its price. Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.
